The JOY-STICK

Published by the Senior Class
of
Barringer High School
Newark, N. J.

COLONEL LINDBERGH

"Lindy did not argue—he flew."

*Great eagle, flying 'cross the sunlit sky
With wings that breast the tempest's force on high!
Young heart that has no fear of height nor space
With truth and courage written on thy face;
Across the storm-tossed ocean wide and far
You guide your ship by compass and by star.
Nations with wondering eyes your prowess see
And loud acclaim the deed performed, and "We."*

F. S.

THE AVIATOR.

*Like some strange bird of passage see him fly—
Between the mountain peak and thunder cloud
He rides serene—a lonely eagle proud.
He writes across the sky a thrilling tale
Of faith and courage that will never fail.
Viewed from his height, our upturned faces must
Look meaningless as any speck of dust.
God of the eagles, hold him safely there,
A mighty warrior, conquering the air!*

M. D.

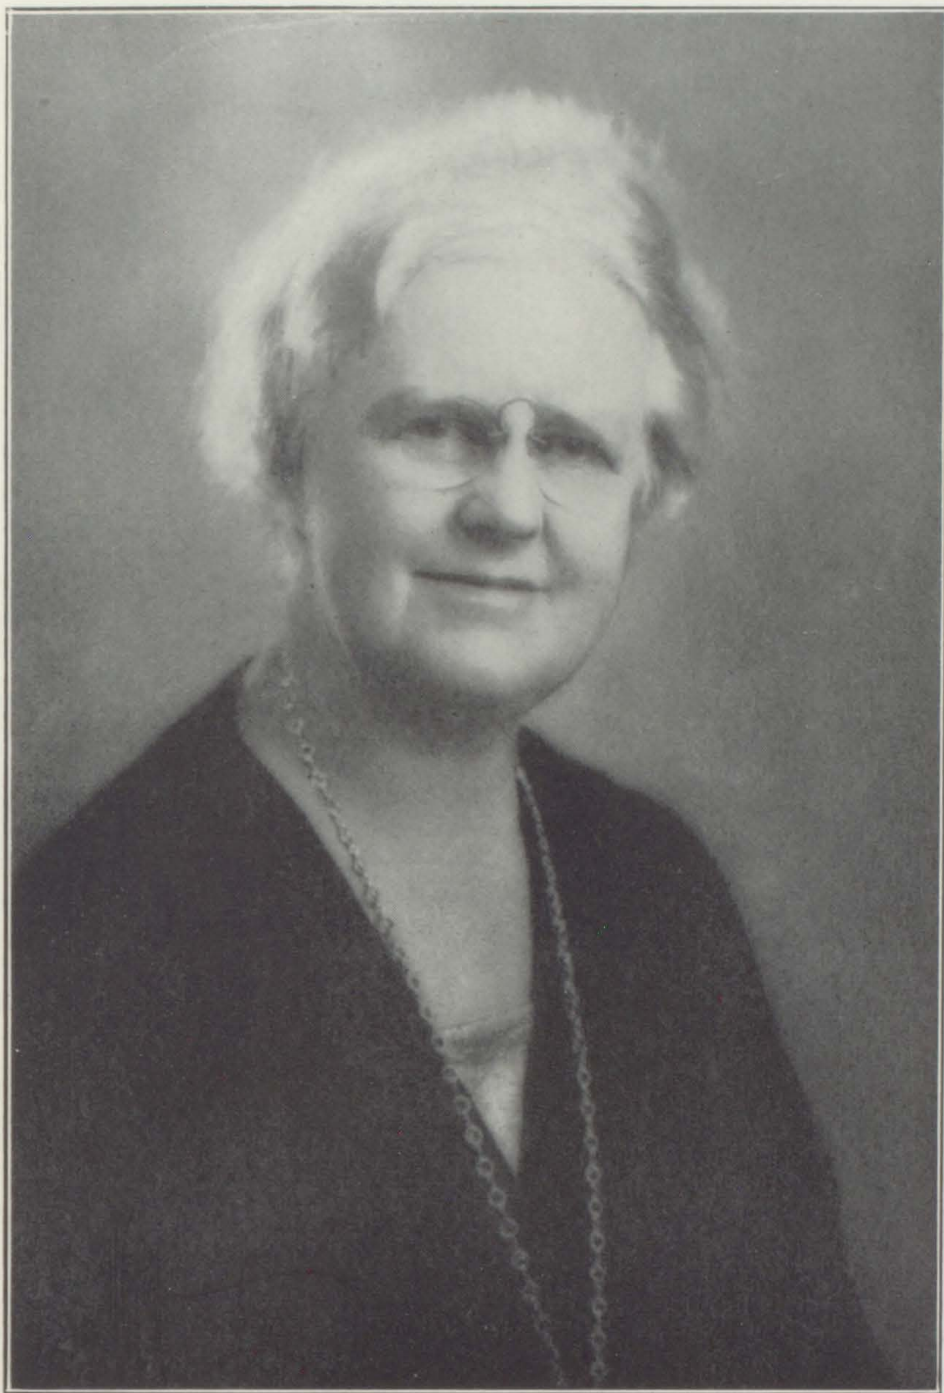

We, the class of January 1929, have placed between the covers of this "Joy-Stick", whatever things will recall memories of Barringer High School, as such memories bring happiness.

The Joy-Stick

THE Joy-stick! How much it has meant to us! And how much it will mean! What joy we have experienced as we have controlled the joy-stick, the steering rod of our plane, through our four years at Barringer. Some of us have had to make forced landings; some have taken off once more, but others have dropped out of the fight. We have encountered innumerable air-pockets, storms and fogs. We have been near ground several times, but always our joy-stick has guided us upward, taking us farther, with the teachers of Barringer as our beacons.

Let us fly back to the year 1838, the year of the founding of Barringer High School, and trace the relative progress of Barringer and the airplane. Let us see how dear Barringer and the renowned carrier of the joy-stick have fared through the years.

Here we are back in 1838, having landed unobserved in a meadow near Newark. Upon asking for Newark High School, we are directed to the second floor of Nathan Hedge's famous school on Bank Street. There we are informed that there is a huge attendance of ninety-one pupils. How proudly one pupil tells us that his school is the third oldest High School in the United States; that it was established in 1838, being the second to one established in 1837 at Philadelphia, and third to one established in 1821 at Boston. At this time we learn of a faint rumor from England concerning an "aerial steam carriage," but, when we mention it, much joking and ridicule ensue.

We take flight again and land on January 4, 1854. Here, having landed at Hedge's School, we are informed that a new building has been put up at Linden and Washington Streets for the exclusive use of the High School. We go to the spot and find the new school housed in quite an impressive looking building. Now there are three hundred and eighty-two boys and girls in attendance. How quaint they look and how enthusiastically we are shown through the building! Still there is no news or sign of an "aerial steam carriage."

Having taken flight in 1854, it does not take us long to fly through forty-six more years and land in 1900. Newark High School is now located on Parker Street. It is no longer called Newark High School, but Barringer High School in honor of a former City Superintendent of Schools, Doctor Barringer. Here at last we are on familiar ground, and know our bearings pretty well, for this building is none other than the one in which we have spent four unforgettable years. We search in vain for the Branch Brook Park we know, but all we find is a swampy dump, as Barringer's front yard. We spend a short time talking to some of the teachers and then ask one point-blank if there has been any development in the airplane theory. He scouts the idea and condemns the flight of man as an impossibility. He does mention, however, the unsuccessful experiments of a certain Professor Langley along this line.

Hereafter we shall have to hug the ground very closely, for it is in the next few years that things begin to happen in the development of the airplane. We touch at Barringer on September 24, 1904. Eager informants tell us about the reported flight of the Wright Brothers, made on the day before. But, like the rest of the world, they refuse to believe it has happened, and also like the rest, they remain unaware of the flight of man until more than four years after the first flight has been recorded.

Having completed the last lap of our flight through the years, let us land again in 1929, where we first took off. Here is Barringer graduating the class which has flown to the top, the class of January, 1929. Here also is the airplane at its best, becoming a part of our life. What heights will the airplane reach in the years to come? What deeds will the class of January, 1929, accomplish for the world with the airplane?

Now that we have received our license, in the form of diplomas, we are able and prepared to set forth on our solo flights—out into the world to attain success and to bear Barringer's standards on with us.

CHORUS

Since we came up to Barringer,
We've learned, oh, many a thing;
Since we came up to Barringer
Of those dear days we sing
For dear old Barringer!
For dear old Barringer!
And now we sing our one last song
For dear old Barringer.

We're marching forth from Barringer
To higher schools we go.
We're marching forth from Barringer
With smiles and tears we go.
We're marching forth into the world
Without a bit of fear.
We're panoplied beneath the shield
Of Alma Mater dear.

THE INSEPARABLES

Class History

Canto I.

Of a wondrous class that's called the '29
In this my sometimes feeble, halting line
I sing! Oh Muse, lend me thy precious aid
To tell of many a youth and blushing maid,
Who first in '25 these portals crossed
As "freshies" whom the upper classmen bossed.
We studied hard and knew our lessons well,
(Alas! from this high standard some soon fell!)
Five months fled by, and lo! we were 1A's,
And we in turn did other "Freshies" haze.
We went to football games and how we cheered
When the "Red & Blue" a "Big Blue" touchdown feared.
Thanksgiving, New Years, Christmas, then exams
"This 1A class," our teacher said, "just crams."
At last the day arrived of which we dreamed.
Old students, we to other "Freshies" seemed.

Canto II.

Our Freshman year rushed past with greatest speed,
As Sophomore "studes," we now gave careful heed
To warring on huge monsters hundred-fold,
The lessons, they are called, both fierce and bold.
The gods of high Olympus to us true,
To the attack all cheered us on anew.
For "Jupiter," the King of 26
In Latin helped us out of many a fix,
While "Juno," leader of the 4A class,
Became the idol of each lad and lass.
The others mingled briskly in our flight:
Sometimes they laid us low—they're mostly right!

Canto III.

Our happy Sophomore year passed all too fast,
And stately Juniors we became at last.
That long awaited word we heard one day—
"The first class meeting must be held Monday."
We chose Miss Pullin as our guiding hand,
Bob Schembs we picked to lead our learned band.
The bright Miss Knight became Vice President
And Fannie Herda wrote each class event.
While Hugh, who's known as Scotty, kept our dues,
And when he asked for them, none dared refuse.
"The class must get acquainted," someone said
To West Point our Miss Pullin then us led,
While on the boat, we laughed, and sang and danced.
Our singing all the passengers entranced (?).
Vacation came again with all its joys,
As 3A's we returned in perfect poise.
As President, Bob Schembs, again did lead
Miss Seeley wrote up each class note with speed.
Marge Knight again took up her given work,
While Scotty all his duties did not shirk.
He said, one day, "Alas! we quite lack gold.
About a show the school must now be told."

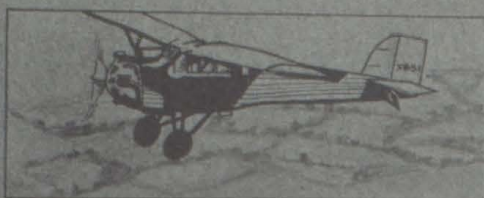

While we made all the money we did seek,
Miss Daniels made a captivating "Sheik"

Canto IV.

It seems as if our third year passed on wings
With movies, dances, parties and such things.
Our Senior year, indeed, came all too soon;
Our Seniors soon assumed a different tune.
As president, we John Bain enrolled,
Elected Scott again to keep our gold.
Miss Herda in John's absence meetings led;
Miss Seeley in 4B our minutes read.
Again the cry arose, "We need more gold!"
For "Cyrano" some tickets then we sold.
A party to 4A our class then gave,
With great control we made our feet behave.
The music influenced our feet to prance,
For sweet the music was at this, our dance.
In winged flight passed 4B in a whirl,
And 4A entered with a greater swirl.
As president, had we John Bain, no less;
In Johnny's absence led Miss Dot Van Ness.
For Jantausch, we, to keep our gold, cast votes.
Miss Zelif we did have to keep our notes.
For us a dance was given by 4B;
Appreciated 'twas most gratefully.
Aha! a cry! "our hoard of gold is low!
To raise it, we, indeed, must have a show!"
We, William Haines, did have of "West Point" fame;
To our cinema in flocks they came.
But lo! came dread exams into our sight;
The pupils studied hard both day and night,
These warring monsters to defeat to send,
With formulas do we contend
'Gainst Chem. the biggest problem of them all;
Defeated, many by the roadside fall.
Another monster hove into our sight
'Gainst Latin struggled we with main and might.
Another and another come our way
The battle rages on through many a day.
Italian, German, Spanish, French and Math,
And each and all exams that block our path,
We conquer, and at last the battle's past,
And graduation night arrives at last.
Oh precious roll of paper shining white,
No longer dances before our longing sight,
But firmly grasped within possessive hands
Equipped with thee, at last, "Jan. Two-Nine" stands.
The four years pass into a memory dear;
We face the East tonight with sturdy cheer.
Upon our wall "This Certifies" we place
And say, "Goodbye to all" with smiling face.

-PILOTS-

4a Day

- 8:15—The 4B's of 55 congest the corridors so that the seniors can't go to their rooms to "study." (?)
- 8:30—The "grinds" arrive, followed by Miss Pullin, Mr. Taylor, and Miss Grork. The studes of 63 arrive, but hasten to have their morning social meeting by 26.
- 8:40—The 5-minute bell sounds. Mr. Taylor gives out, first, warnings, then front seats.
- 8:44 $\frac{3}{4}$ —Miss Ryder breezes over the threshold, followed 2 $\frac{1}{4}$ minutes later by Miss Sonnabend.
- 8:45—The students pass to classes and there is a mad rush for "up" stairways going "down" and vice versa. This is the way Mr. Pritchard picks his football material for the coming season.
- 9:00—The seniors, studying in 51, use up two pads writing—notes.
- 9:30-11:45—The teachers break up our morning naps trying to get those elusive answers,—don't they know 'em by now? Anyway, the answers are more important; why not ask the answers?
- 11:45—Whoopie!—That empty feeling will soon be appeased. The seniors lose their dignity and manners temporarily, and once more become a part of the under graduates.
- 12:10—The bakery crowd starts to drift back and the seniors who at 11:45 had lost their dignity and manners, once more become "The Seniors." (?)
- 12:15—Again the "26" mob starts to assemble. Why is everybody leaving? Oh! Mr. Stearns is coming. No, he isn't going to chase us; he's going to have a chat, too.
- 12:30—The P. G.'s go home; so do the pickle sandwiches and chocolate soda.
- 12:45—The Chem. Lab. is going at full blast—socially. Ever since Mr. Dumm told the story, how many years ago a young ardent chemist blew a hole in the ceiling, Stitt and Benjamin are trying to work out a formula by which they can do the same, only on a larger scale.
- 1:15—Crash!! Did the boilers explode? No, the orchestra just started to practise; 47 fiddles, 3 cornets, 7 saxes, 2 pianists, 8 onlookers. 1 sleeper (not a train).
- 1:20—A hot debate is being carried on in 37. No, it's not about P. D., History, Economics, or anything of the sort. We just can't figure out if the orchestra is playing March Militaire or Crazy Rhythm.
- 1:30—Mr. Taylor's front seats are now occupied for the afternoon—filled from the rank and file of the school.
- 2:00—Mr. Pritchard's football "huskies" (2 $\frac{1}{2}$ tons of brawn and muscle) and also Bob Ribbans, are seen headed in the direction of gym.
- 2:10—Not much noise in the school now; it's mostly outside (the football team is rehearsing (?)).
- 2:15—Why all the noise in 43? Oh, that's right! Some 4A girls are functioning as subs. (It's a good thing it's a study period,—the freshman wouldn't learn anything anyway.
- 2:30—Shouts, yells, cries, etc., are heard from the gym alley. It's not as bad as it used to be, because "Pop," (now, freshman, this is Mr. Stearns but don't call him that to his face) warned us to "ease up" a little.
- 2:43—What? Time to get ready to go home? My, how short these school days are! (That's all right; we don't mean it.)
- 2:45—Ah! back to the home-rooms to say "Goo-bye" to our teachers and then to meander or bounce (Clifton trolley) home.

Flight Forecast

Ladies and gentlemen of the radio audience, this is John Bain, announcing from station B. H. S. The first re-union of the class of January 1929, is being held at the Hotel Pennsylvania. Ten eventful years have passed since this class sang its Alma Mater on the platform, that memorable graduation night. The lives of many of the members have changed greatly since that night and—but wait, we shall see those changes as the guests arrive. Folks, a wonderful sight meets my eyes as I gaze over the room which is gaily decked with blue and white garlands. At one end is James Cherry's famous orchestra. I see Dick Spina, Cliff De Michele, Tom D'Amico, Tony De Noia, Joe Matulo and Art Love, tuning their instruments, as they watch the caterers, Ralph Del Guercio, Sol Russoniello, Mike Carlucci and Joe Bilotta putting on the finishing touches. By the way, the shining silver on the snowy linen certainly looks fine. The members of the class who are to entertain their classmates are holding last minute rehearsals in various parts of the room. In one group Ev Wells and Bill Bishop are practising their latest jazz steps, while Ted Bloom, the modern Al Jolson, croons the newest jazz hit, written by Kitty Jones and Fran Long, well-known composers. Next to them Russ Marchesani and Sam Tulino engage in mock combat with Guido Cetrulo as referee. Farther on Fran Herda is reviewing her models, clothed in the latest fashions brought from Paris by her. The models are Dot Van Ness, Helen Seeley, Eunice Grove, Ida Ciccone, Betty Titus and Beatrice Blum. This is in preparation for a fashion show which will be followed by the reading of some poetry, written for this occasion by Fran Carroll. Janet Ryder, the elocutionist, is glancing over it now.

Vera Brantley and Lois Lacey, the new Duncan sisters, are anxiously awaiting the arrival of their trunks containing their costumes. The press is well represented to-night by Paul Klein and Gerry Panico, reporters for the Newark Evening Herald, of which the editors are Fred Sammis, Jule Lombardi and Harry Katz. They are wearing suits designed personally by Lew Perelli and Ed Mancusi-Ungaro. A great many other old Barringerites are connected with this paper. Art Silverberg and Bill Evans are sport editors and Selma Lilien writes the column entitled "Balm for Lonely Hearts." Hector Mattia is in charge of the advertising department in which we find the famous "Arrow Collar" ad featuring Norman Hendershot and Bill Ward. The ads for Coleo Shampoo and Palm Olive soap are respectively adorned by the features of Mary Damiano and Al Amiano. It is now eight o'clock and the guests are beginning to arrive.

Ah, here comes our beloved advisor Miss Pullin, who has given up the noble profession of teaching to indulge in her long-fostered desire to raise chickens. She is accompanied by Miss Grork, now the preceptress of a select school for girls. Mr. Stearns, is still the honored principal of Barringer High School, although Princeton has tried several times to secure him for its president. He won the cup in the National Amateur Golfer's contest last year and is evidently describing how he made that "hole in one" to Mr. Taylor. The latter's recent translation of Vergil's Aeneid has brought him such a fortune that he now has made his permanent home at his estate in Maine. As for the members of the class, it is easy to see that big business men are always on time, for here comes Harold Duckett and Ellwood Mills with Lou Raimo close on their heels, and the famous law firm of Julius Freedman and Art Lipstein. Fred Kirschner, Carl Grant and Bernard Maas, the most eminent scientists of the day, who have found that long sought cure for the blues, now enter slowly. Luckily for Denton Jeffries, his schedule as a travelling salesman brought him to Newark tonight. I see him with Bob Schembs, the able football coach of Princeton and Johnny Schott, his assistant, talking over the latest football formations, while Charlie Higgins, the modern Babe Ruth, listens intently. Well, now! Here are Michael Bocchini, a Latin teacher, Morris Tarnpoll, a trig instructor, Katharine Bell and Barbara Crosse, French teachers, talking over the trials and tribulations of teaching. They have been joined by Ada de Zayas, instructor in Barringer's new gym. Hurray! The passengers who just came from Paris on the Zeppelin R564163, which makes daily trips abroad, are entering the room. Among them are Caroline Edwards and Bobby Groo, the artists, Pearl Eskin, a day nursery matron, Eleanor Schmitt with her husband, returning from their honeymoon, also the officers of the Junior Contemporary League, including Dot Eisele, Mildred Alvino, Grace Carlough, Marty Horbach and Doris Robertson. The Captain of the Zeppelin, Al White, and his assistant, Ed Mullen, are discussing the flight which the competent secretary of the ship, Lil Zelifi, had entered in the log book as the swiftest in history. This would have been impossible if it were not for his clever mechanics, Angelo Vitale, Frank Marino, Bill Caputo, Gus Rotunda, Dick Massenzio and Bill Pecora. Marg Knight and Doris Potter, who were studying art abroad, came over by boat a week ago. Ahem! Here's a telegram—now just a moment and I'll read it—To my classmates Wish I could be with you tonight stop duties as a missionary in China prevent coming stop will be thinking of you. Signed Julia Weber. Speaking of distant lands, William Moy, ambassador to the United States, can be seen talking to Hugh Scott, now treasurer of the United States. Nearby "Steve" Muti, wearing his medal won at the last Olympic meet, is surrounded by an admiring group consisting of Margaret Senerchia, Metropolitan Opera star, Ida D'Avella and Dot Coe, owners of the smartest hat shop in New York and Edith Calcagno, foremost critic of the modern theatre. The two multi-millionaires of the class, Richard Hansen and Joe Jantausch, announced that the managers of the Community Chest for 1940, would be Daniel Hicks and Jacob Shait. John Simpson, who has won renown as modern Sherlock Holmes, is being congratulated on the clever solution of his last baffling crime by Carmine De Paolo, author of The Walking Skeleton, and by Joe Sivollella, who was made a commander on his graduation from West Point. Sam Cohen, who discovered how to make gold out of chemicals, has used some of his money to have escalators installed in Barringer—a most worthy cause, Sam. Now I see a figure searching here and there—why it's Fran Schroedter looking for Gert Sonnabend, who has just rushed breathlessly through the door. Five years ago, ladies and gentlemen, these two girls in their eager perusal through old Latin manuscripts found directions for locating a long-lost treasure and they returned from their successful voyage last week. I think we are all here now—no, here comes Burman Stitt, the actor, strolling in late, as usual. Well! folks, I'll give you one last picture before signing off. Hugh Scott is leading the class in some rousing cheers. Now each one is standing at attention at the long banquet table and through the room steals the tender, never-forgotten strains of the dear old Alma Mater.—Goodnight all.

Sports

"B" Men

When Denton Jeffries' sophomore year rolled around, he became one of the candidates for the football squad. During his first year, Dent substituted at half-back. Here he played a sterling game but he did not receive his letter. In 1927 Jeffries came out with a lust to kill. That year he again attempted as half-back. In recognition of his great playing, he was awarded his letter. In his last year Jeffries was again back at his old position. Here he played his usual sterling game.

In 1926, Dent tried his hand at track. After a season of hard work, he finally won his B, but track lost one of its stars as Jeffries decided to give all his time to football and to let track alone.

Teddy Bloom was another athlete to gain fame as a two letter man. In the fall of 1926, Teddy started his athletic career as a football player. He showed up well in his first year, earning a B-2. In 1927, he started off with a bang only to be laid up with a fractured ankle in the first game of the season. It was not until 1928 that Teddy really had his chance. That year Teddy astonished everyone by his spectacular playing.

In 1926 and '27, Teddy was unsuccessful in an attempt to make the baseball team because of his poor batting. The next year, he worked hard and his batting improved so much that he became a fixture at first base. Teddy, by the way, hit well over three hundred that year.

Americus Muti, one of the greatest ends ever to play for Barringer, started his career in 1925 when yet a freshman. Contrary to custom, he won a varsity berth his first year. His stellar playing was a great factor in the team's winning the State Honors that year. 1926 was Muti's big year. His playing attracted so much attention that he was mentioned for the All-State selections for the year. In 1927 and '28, Muti continued to play the brand of football that brought him fame.

In 1927 and 1928, he not only played football but he tried his hand at track. Here he was also successful, winning his coveted B both years.

Muti will close his career the proud possessor of six major letters, a "pie" emblem, and four gold footballs.

Robert Schembs, our sturdy football captain, proved himself on both the football field and the diamond. Bob first reported for football in 1926. Here he showed promise of developing into a great back. In 1927, he was noted for his great runs of twenty to thirty yards at a clip. Because of his ability to punt, throw and carry the ball, Bob would have gained a berth on the All State team of that year if it had not been for an unfortunate accident which kept him from playing during the latter part of the season. In 1927, Bob was elected captain for '28. In 1928, Bob continued to play his sterling brand of football.

In 1927, he tried his fortune in baseball. In this sport, he became one of Barringer's best pitchers, winning more than ten games, his first year. In 1928 he was our mainstay on the mound and played in the field when he was not laboring in the box.

Hector Mattia's freshman year, although he did not engage in any varsity sports, was not wasted, as he took part in inter-class athletics. That year he captained the freshman football, baseball and soccer teams.

Being encouraged by this success, he, in his second year, tried for a place on the varsity track team. Mattia, after laboring through one season, discovered that fame for him lay in a different direction.

Therefore, when the season of '27 arrived, he was among the candidates for the football team. As the team had a veteran line, Mattia did not get much chance to show his ability. In 1928, he was chosen to play tackle. In the early part of the season, after having played in sterling fashion, Hector received a setback in the form of a broken nose. After having a guard made to protect his nose, he resumed play. Mattia's sterling play was a great factor in the success of the team of 1928.

John Schott, our brawny center, made his debut in sports in 1926. He did not get into any games in his first year, but he showed his true Barringer spirit by coming out again in 1927. That year he alternated at center with Billy Hinton, our varsity center. In return for his good work, Johnny was awarded his letter. During his last season, Johnny played with new life and vigor and at the end of the season he was recognized as one of the greatest centers in the State.

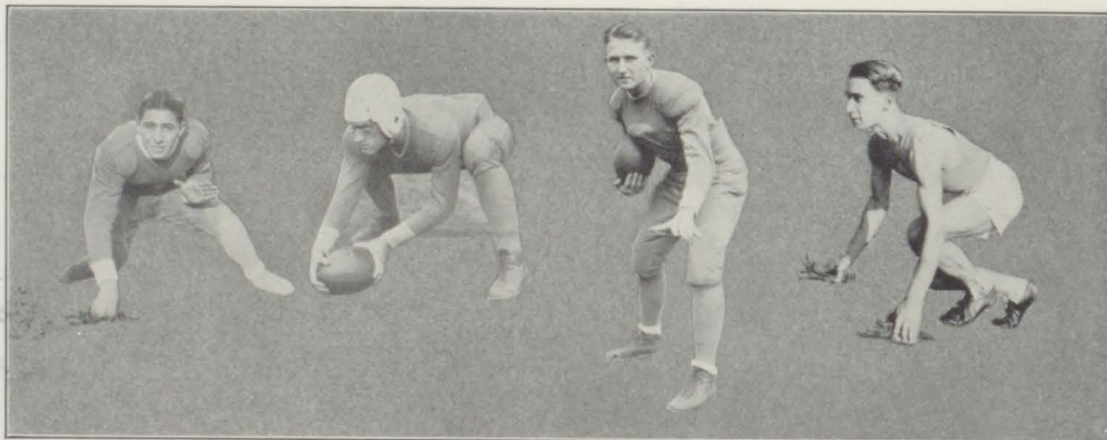

Johnny is now the proud possessor of two major letters.

John Bain was another player who saw four years' service on the football team. His first year was spent learning the fundamentals of the game. In 1926, although he played in many games, he did not receive his letter. It was not until 1927 that Johnny hit his true stride. During that year, he was the talk of the football circles, because of his daring way of running back punts. Later, after Bob Schembs was injured, Johnny showed that he could play fullback as well as halfback. Johnny received his letter in 1927 and 1928.

In order to keep himself in condition for football, Johnny became a candidate for swimming. Here he gained fame in the hundred and forty-yard free style. Johnny has won three letters in swimming.

Dominick Massenzio is another of our representatives on the Track Team. In 1926, Nick's first year, he surprised everyone by his sterling performances in the Broad-jump. In '27 and '28 Massenzio was one of our most consistent point scorers. Although he was not often fortunate enough to win his favorite event, he was always among the first three.

In the fall of '28 Coach Salerno succeeded in convincing Nick that he had a future in cross country. Nick soon showed that he had the making of a good runner. This year Nick and his team-mates won the City cross-country title. Massenzio possesses a major letter and a minor letter.

In the spring of 1926, Joe Jantusch became a candidate for track honors. After spending most of his first year without success, he finally hit his stride. During the latter part of the season, Jantusch showed great promise. That year he scored twelve points, thus winning his letter. In '27 Joe sprang a surprise by being the leading point scorer of the season.

In the fall of '27, Joe tried his hand at football, but he soon saw that success for him lay in track, and not football.

When the spring of '28 rolled around, Joe was again matching strides with other stars. This proved to be another successful season, as Joe was second in points scored for the year.

—o—

When Tom D'Amico entered Barringer, he had two aims: to win his letters in his favorite sports, track and football. 1925 and '26 saw Tom laboring on the cinder paths. In 1927 D'Amico became a varsity man, although he did not win quite enough points to receive his letter. When 1928 arrived, Tommie ran in such style that he covered himself with glory. Among his triumphs of that year were: the N.J.I.A.A. Quarter Mile Championship and the N. J. I. A. A. Relay in which he ran anchor man.

In 1926, Tom tried to satisfy his ambition in football. His first year was spent in learning the fundamentals of the game. In '27, he also toiled without success. D'Amico came back in 1928 to close his career in football, in a blaze of glory, by winning his letter.

—o—

In the fall of '26, Bill Ward chose to begin his athletic career as a member of the cross-country team. Bill was surprised by his fitness as a distance runner. Therefore in the spring of '27, he was among the candidates for the Track Team. The following season Bill was recognized as one of the best half-milers in the State.

Being successful in one sport, Bill tried another. His first year was spent accumulating football sense. The following season, Bill, after playing in many of the games, was awarded his letter.

—o—

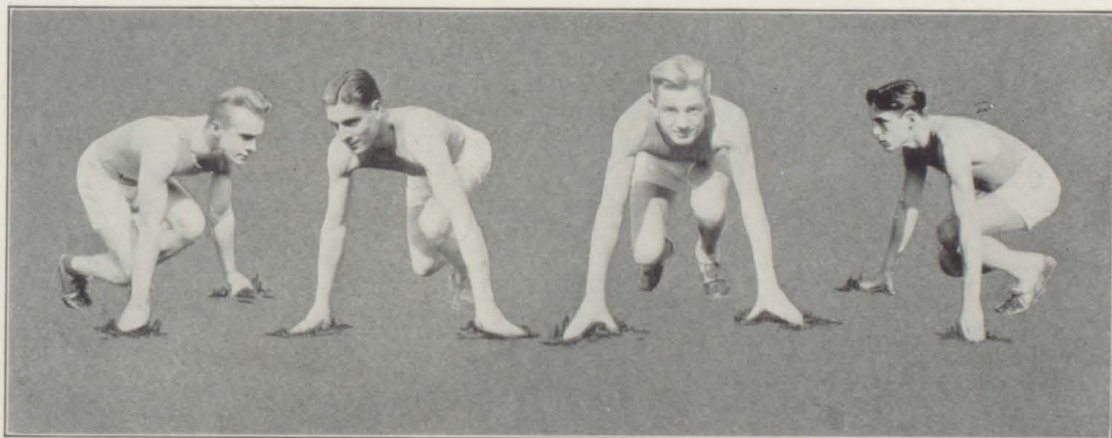

"Who is that flash?"

"That is Tony De Noia, the fellow who does the 100 in ten flat."

Tony reported for track practice in 1927. One look at him and the coach shook his head. Tony is barely five feet tall. Coach Salerno had often heard that good things come in small packages, so he gave De Noia a chance. By the end of '27, Tony had often impressed the coach with his speed and form. In '28 Tony lived up to all the nice things expected of him, by accounting for three to five points each meet.

After the track season, De Noia turned his attention to soccer. In this sport, he also earned his letter.

De Noia now sports a major and a minor B.

Joe Matullo has divided his time between two major sports, track and football. In '27, Joe became a candidate for the track team. His first season was spent, as usual, learning the tricks of the trade. In '28, Joe was heading toward a bit of fame, as the relay team, of which he was a member, won the New Jersey Inter-Schoolastic Relay Championship. Joe was injured and forced to retire from the field of action.

With the fear, in his heart, of leaving his Alma Mater without having won a letter, Joe, in '28, played football with exceptional ability. For this, he was awarded his coveted letter.

Hugh Scott—In order that athletic teams may play, other teams must be engaged to play against them. Therefore the task of making out a schedule is very important. The success of the team is also greatly dependent upon the schedule drawn up. This important work was twice done by our friend, Hugh Scott. In the fall of '26, Scotty toiled as assistant manager of the cross-country team. He was then elected to manage the team in '27.

After spending the season of 1927 as assistant manager, Scotty was elected in 1928, to manage the Track Team. Scotty also showed interest in both the Baseball and Football Teams. For this reward, he received a major and a minor letter.

Charlie Higgins—When the spring of 1927 came, many new candidates had high hopes of playing on the Big Blue's Nine. Charlie Higgins was among those who aspired to baseball fame. However, he was doomed to disappointment. Charlie played in a few games that year and played exceedingly well. He did not win his letter, however. In 1928 he again tried his hand at the great American game. This time "Muscles" was more successful. After a hard season, as a just reward for his playing, he was awarded his letter. Charlie is a fine example for showing what persistency is able to do!

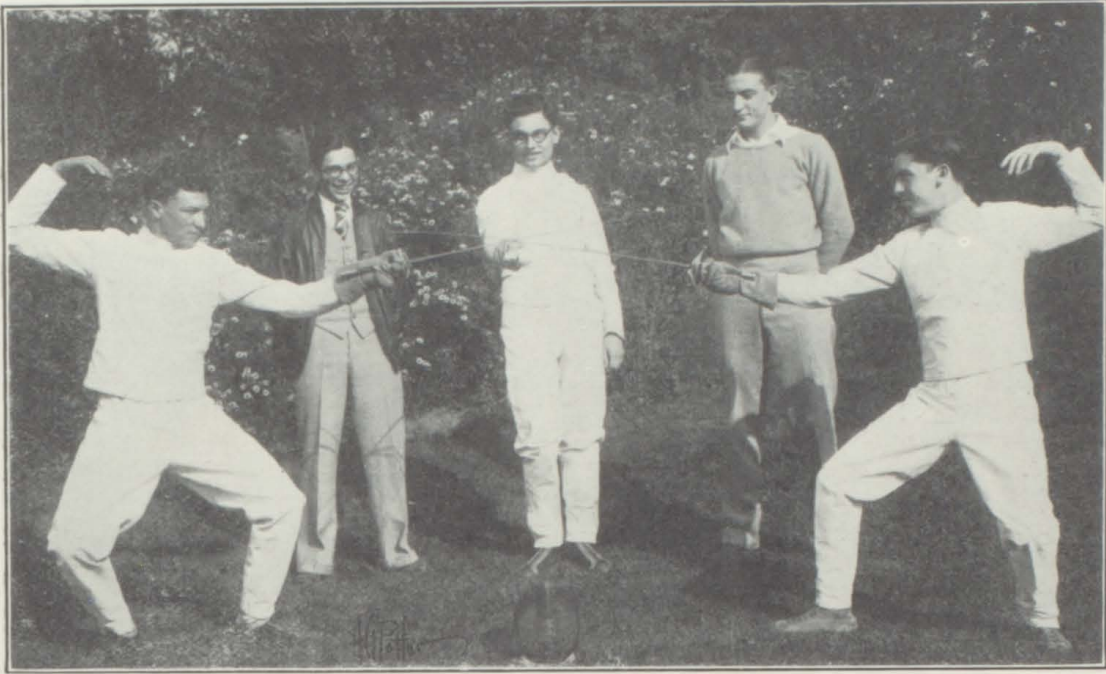

Al White began his athletic career in the spring of '27. He was another of the few to gain a varsity berth his first year out. Al started as an infielder but because of his batting ability, he was converted into an outfielder. Al gained his letter in baseball in both 1927 and 1928.

In the fall of '27, Al became a cross-country star. In his first year, he ran in such sensational style that he was elected captain for 1928.

Later in '27 Al turned towards indoor track. Here he won his letter and he was awarded his pie emblem for winning the State Mile Championship.

Ralph Del Guercio's first endeavors were concentrated on that great sport, football. His first year out was spent getting himself adjusted and learning the fundamentals of the game. In '27, Ralph again donned his mole-skins. That year he was more successful. He began to concentrate upon learning how to play the center position. Because there were two veterans of former years battling out the right to play that position, it was no small achievement to win his "B-2." Encouraged by his success in the preceding year, Ralph played inspired football in '28. Ralph is now in that select circle of Barringer letter-men.

Fencing Team

Four years ago, a group of students met in Room 32 to discuss the advisability of inaugurating Fencing in Barringer High School. The eyes of one boy (who later was to captain Dartmouth's Varsity Team) beamed especially bright and inquisitive throughout the proceedings. He was delighted in the new movement, and suggested to Mr. Franklin Crosse that if Barringer would organize a Fencing Club, he, with the help of his father, would try to produce a team capable of representing the Big Blue. Many boys as well as girls joined this club and daily practice soon began under the guidance of Gerald Cetrulo, Jr. Work in learning the fundamentals of the duelling art became a pastime and when the "on guard" call for the season of 1926 came, Barringer had a team on the strip. Howard Crosse, Anthony Scafati and Marcel Tetaz successfully manipulated the foils for our first competitive team. Enthusiasm waxed high and the following season found the club increased twofold. With new members came new suggestions; a desire to have the team officially recognized by the Athletic Association became evident. However, nothing was done along this line during the early part of the 1927 season. But in June, members of the Fencing Club, proud of the record the two earlier teams had made, requested the recognition of fencing as a minor sport. In this they were successful and when Guido Cetrulo, Russ Marchesani and Samuel Tulino crossed blades for the first time in 1928, equipped with new white uniforms and shining foil bells, against the Trinity Prep team, they did so with a great sense of pride, because they felt that they for the first time were officially representing their Alma Mater. No more can be said concerning the history of this new sport at Barringer, except that much of the story remains to be told by future Acropolis writers.

The members of the Fencing Team graduating with the class of January, 1929, can only look back in pleasant retrospect and view the origin of Fencing in Barringer as a great endeavor championed in its early infancy by a good sport.

MINOR "B" MEN

The Minor Sports

One has read many pages written about Barringer High School's great baseball, football and track teams. This has left an unfortunate condition, as few students, if any, realize that there is another field of sport in which the record of our school is upheld. Barringer is represented in this field by five different teams, swimming, cross-country, soccer, tennis and fencing.

In order that you may become more familiar with these minor sports, it is best to enumerate a few of the things accomplished by these teams in former years.

The swimming team, although it is at a disadvantage, has been a consistent winner. About two-thirds of Barringer's opponents, in swimming, have pools in their schools, where they practise. This of course leaves our team under a great handicap, as they can only practise a few days each week; even then, they must travel down town to the Y. M. H. A. pool. The team, although under this handicap, has defeated such schools as East Orange, Montclair, Dickinson and Plainfield. Among the outstanding stars one must name Johnny Bain, Bob Ribbens, Casebolt, Kleiber and Greason.

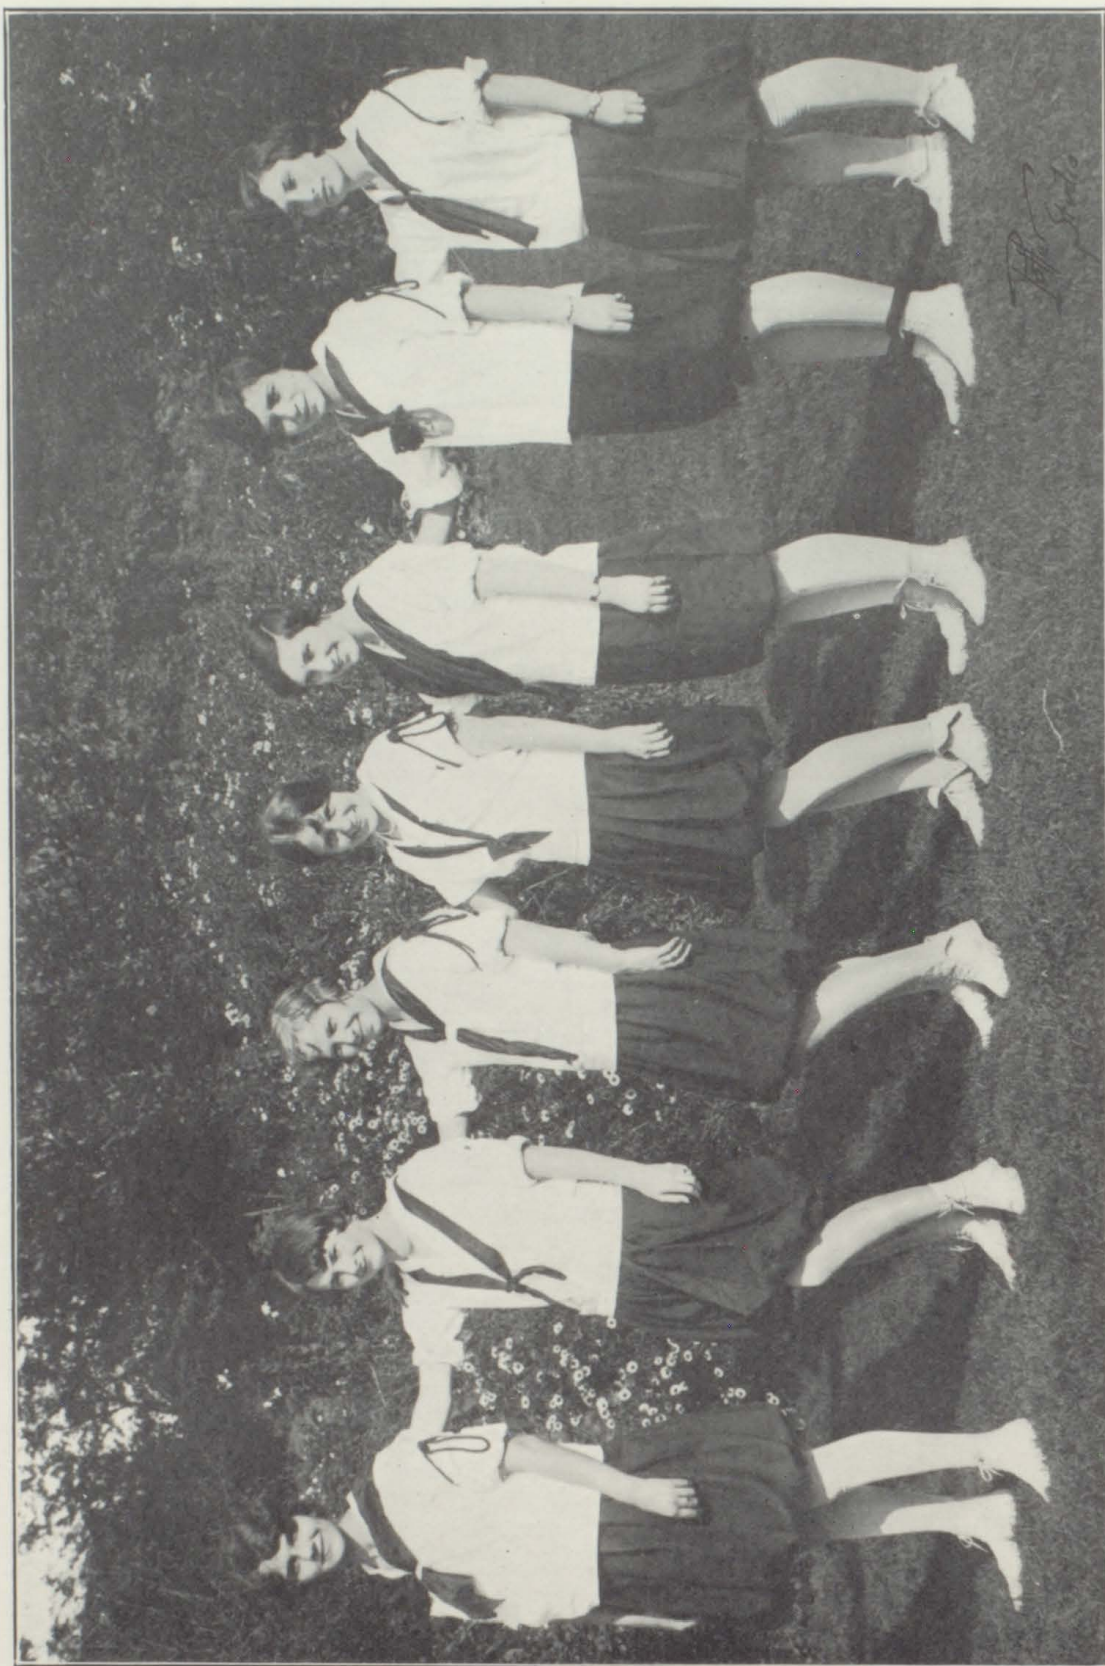

In the fall of the year, when everybody is thinking about football, there were a few who divided their time and interest between two other sports, namely cross-country and soccer.

The Barringer Warriors, since being coached by Vic Salerno, have developed into the greatest threat for Passaic's State honors. Cross-country is the most gruelling of all sports. The course is any distance between two and two and one-half miles, up hill and down dale.

Each day one has to but go into the park to see another of our minor sports, soccer. Coach Payton has his team out practising from three o'clock until it is too dark to see. One may say that this is foolish. But is it? One glance at this record will give you the answer. Every year our soccer team is at or near the top of every league in which it participates.

In the spring, when Coach Payton has been relieved of the responsibilities of the soccer and swimming teams, he must begin to coach the tennis team. Each year, without fail, this team enjoys a successful season. Among the teams it competes with are East Orange, Blair, Asbury Park and Atlantic City.

A few years ago a fencing team was formed. After defeating such teams as the West Point Freshman, Columbia Freshman, Lawrenceville Prep and Erasmus, the team applied for recognition as a minor sport. Therefore in 1927 they were recognized by the A. A. As a minor sport, the fencing team has continued to defeat their opponents with regularity.

CORD GIRLS

Cord Girls

Marjory Knight, besides earning her Freshman and Senior cords, won her "B" as well in the gym meet of '25. She was active in the gym exhibition '26, and was among the honored to be chosen gym captain for '25, '26, '27, '28.

Lillian Zeff has been a gym captain for the four consecutive years that she's been in B. H. S. She well earned her Junior and Senior cords besides. Lil was also among the girls who took part in the gym meet, '25 and the gym exhibition, '26.

Although Caroline Edwards hasn't seemed to turn her interests towards meets and the like, she's come through with Junior and Senior cords and the honor of having been a captain for '26, '27, '28.

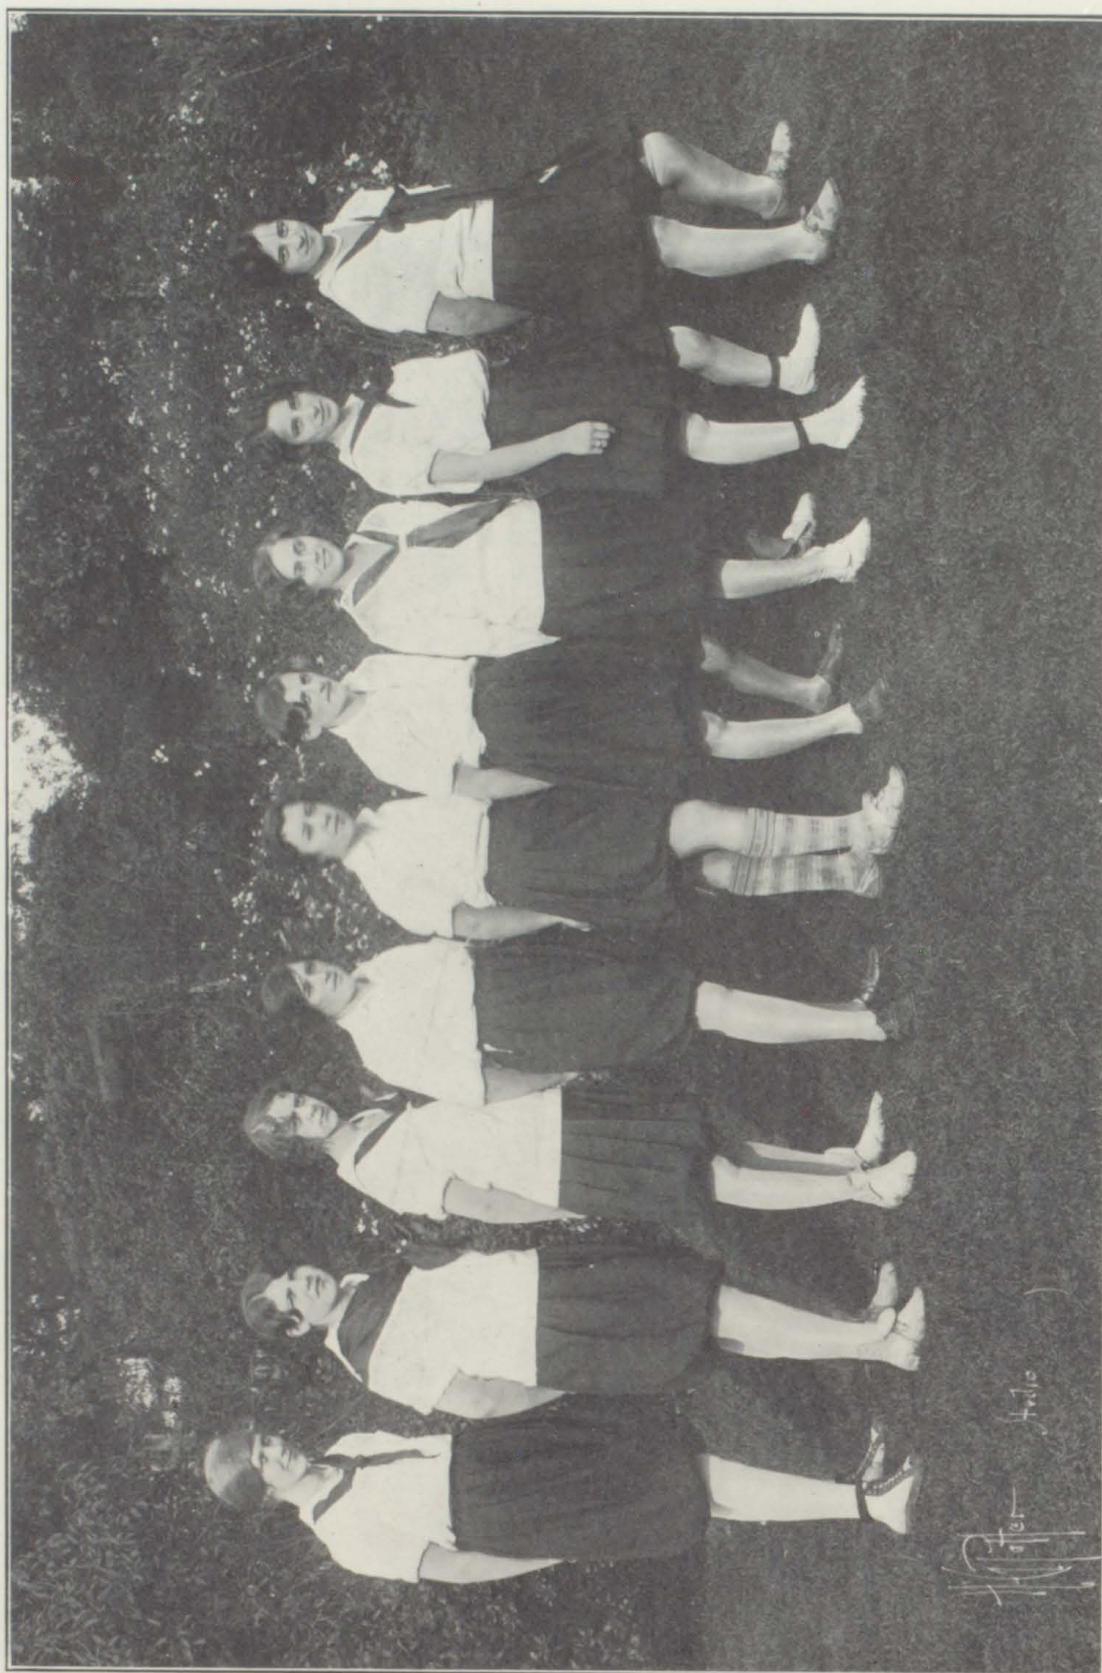

Maybe it's because Catherine Jones is so tall that she's been able to cover such a lot of ground in the athletic line. She went out for hockey in '26 and proved herself an excellent jumping center on the Senior basketball team. She was a gym captain in '28. When girls were wanted for meets and exhibitions, Kitty was always there, having been in the gym exhibition in '27, Sesqui-Centennial Parade and gym meet, thereby earning her Emblem and "B."

Wherever you see Mildred, you're pretty sure of finding Ida D'Avella, too, even in gym festivities. Ida is a Junior and Senior cord girl, too. Her good gym work found her at the head of her line as captain in '26, '27 and '28. She was active in gym exhibition, gym meet, and Newark High School Festival, getting her "B" as a result of her work.

Evelyn Wells has been very successful in her gym work. She earned her Sophomore, Junior and Senior cords, as well as being a captain for '25, '26, '27, '28. She has found enough time to take active part in the gymnastic line as well. She was in the Stadium Exhibition, gym meet, '25, and the Sesqui-Centennial Parade.

Mildred Alvino has certainly earned her right to her Junior and Senior cords; she earned her "B" in the Pentathlon, '27 and her numerals in '28 besides being a captain in '27 and '28. She took part in the gym exhibition, Newark High School Festival, gym meet and Stadium Exhibition. This little girl certainly deserves a hand.

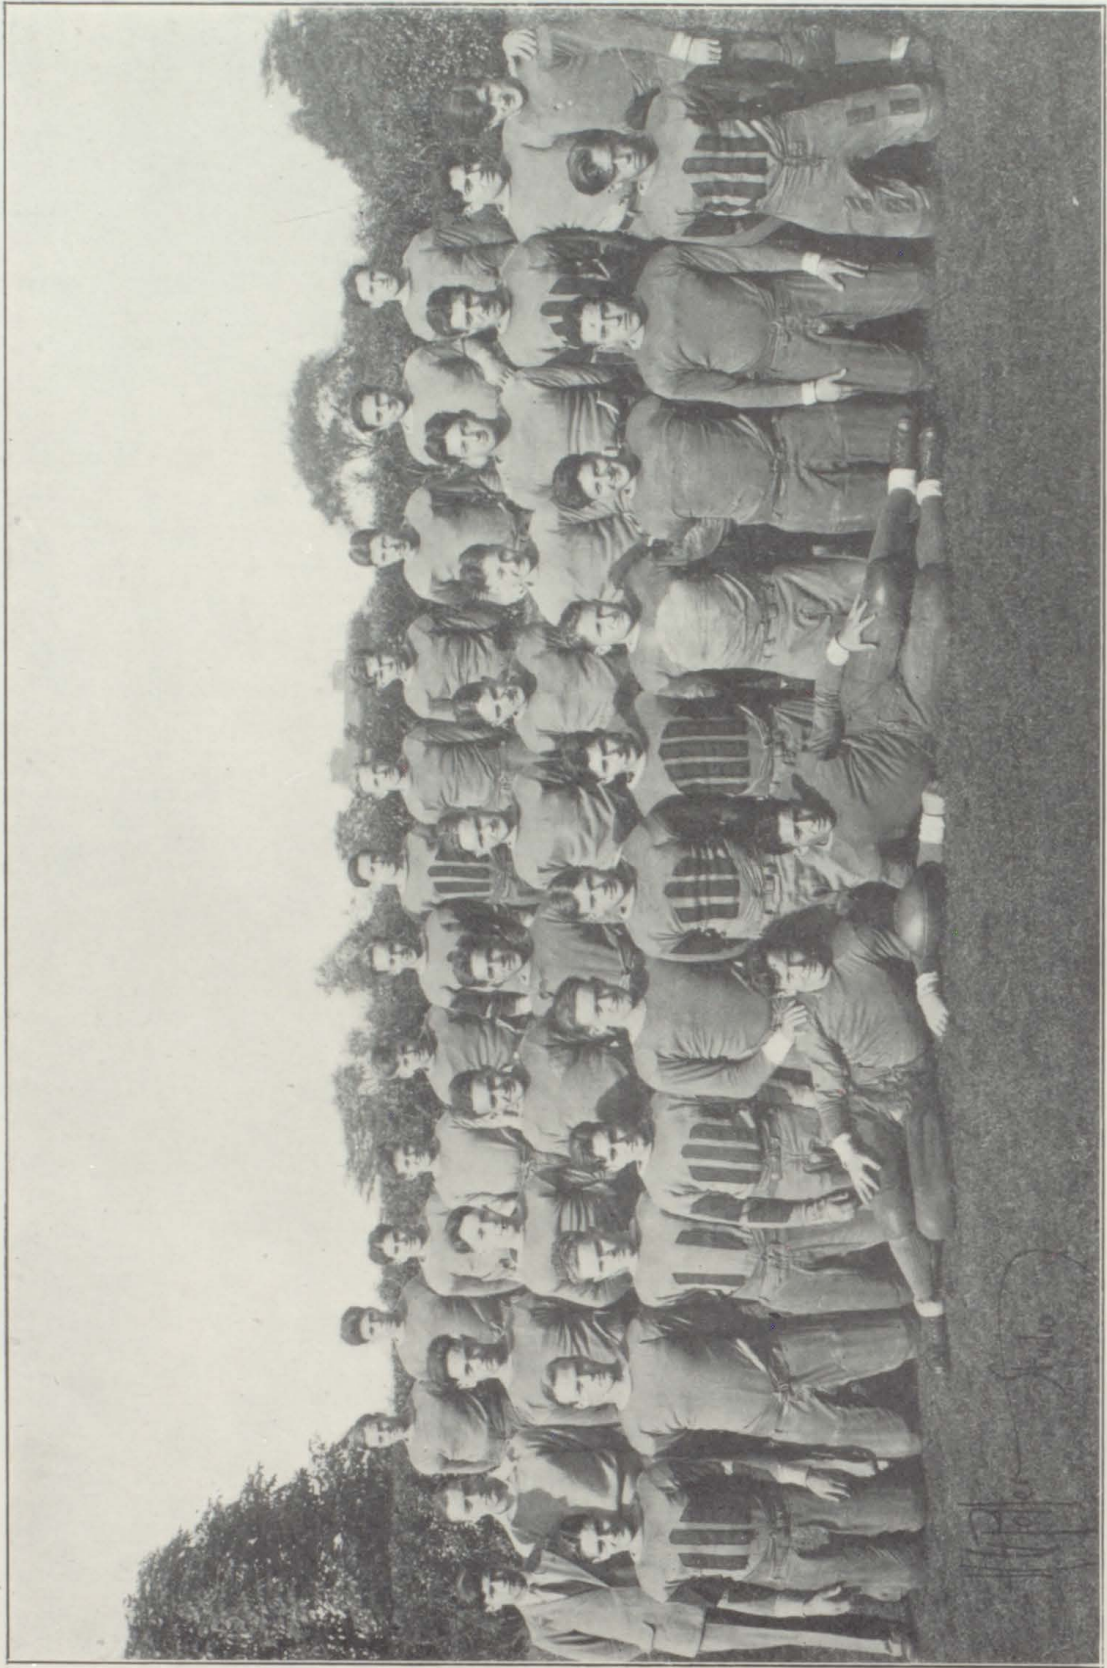

HOCKEY GIRLS

Hockey Girls

The hockey season this year has proved both a successful and an enjoyable one. The first of October saw the start and there was a hearty response in answer to the call issued by Miss Florence Wallace, whom we were so fortunate as to obtain for our coach once again. The first day on the field found many new girls as well as several girls who had already had experience in wielding a hockey stick; in fact, the number exceeded that of last year by a large percentage. Practice was held on Mondays and Thursdays and as always, the first month, October, was devoted solely to getting acquainted with the sticks, balls and learning the rules, etc. In no time whatever the newer girls were so well acquainted with the rudiments of the field sport, that they were throwing themselves into the practice games with as much pep and zeal as the old timers. After a month of faithful work by the girls, the matter of teams came up and incidentally that of captains to guide these teams. The girls were permitted to elect their own captains with the following results: Senior Capt., Ada de Zayas; Junior Capt., Emily Oldenburg; Sophomore Capt., Patricia Ryan, and Freshman Capt., Helen Aspinall. Teams were then formed and it was decided to have games Tuesdays and Thursdays with practice each Monday. There were to be six games in all, each team playing some other one twice, the team with the least number of defeats to its record called the Varsity Team, the members of which receive their much desired numerals. Besides the Varsity Team, there is one known as the "All Star Team." This team consists of one girl chosen from the four teams for one of the eleven positions on the team, and to earn this right is the goal towards which every girl strives in order to earn one of the necessary two points towards a "B." The games were exceptionally exciting, each team having a hard fight even to score. Three games only and the final one were played because of necessary postponements, with the final victory for the Juniors over the Sophomores with a score of 2—1 giving them the title of Varsity Team and their right to their numerals.

Football

Throughout this past gridiron season, Barringer has conquered and has been conquered. On Friday, Sept. 28, the season opened with a bang! After a snappy tussle, the game resulted in a 14—7 victory for the Big Blue over Paterson Central. Credit for the touch-down went to Bob Schembs and Den Jeffries. They are to be congratulated for their snappy playing.

On Saturday, Oct. 26, the Big Blue bowed to Phillipsburg 6—0. The next week, Barringer again suffered defeat, by Dickinson, to the tune of 19—13. "Teddy" Bloom played a fine defensive game. Credit went to Crecca for his ball-carrying and to Bob Schembs for his kicking. Bain and Crecca scored the touchdowns for Barringer.

The following week, Oct. 20, the Big Blue defeated West Side. It was a good game. The score, 7—0, proves that West Side put up a good fight. Schembs starred for Barringer. Crecca, Irwin, Muti, and Jeffries also played well. Bain scored the touchdown and Schembs kicked the goal.

On Oct. 27, a readjusted Barringer eleven drubbed East Side High 31—0. Schembs scored two touchdowns; Bain, Muti, and Berman scored the rest. The extra point was added by Schembs' kick.

On Nov. 3, the Big Blue ran roughshod over Montclair on a soggy field and crushed them 30—7. Honors for the day went to the line-smashing Schembs. Laurels went also to Johnny Bain for his excellent playing. Schembs scored four touchdowns, Bloom one.

On Nov. 10, we took a licking from South Side to an 18—0 tune. The next week, however, we smashed through Ceneral for an 18—13 victory. The backfield honors of the day went to Johnny Bain, Den Jeffries and Fred Caruso. Those deserving credit in the line were Muti and D'Amico. Bain scored two touchdowns, Caruso one.

Then the Thanksgiving Day game—East Orange! But of course you all remember that!

Many changes were made in the line during the season, but the final shift found Muti and D'Amico in the wingmen's berths, Mattia and Schott at the tackle positions, Ribbans and Heinish playing guards and Christian as pivot-man. In the back field, Captain Schembs filled the full-back's shoes, Bain lay back in the "quarter's" area, and Crecca, Jeffries and Irwin took turns as half-backs.

Mattia appeared with a broken nose in the West Side game, and Schembs was out of the Central fracas, owing to a sprained ankle. These are what you call "breaks."

In spite of the fact that Barringer has suffered a few defeats, we insist upon calling this a successful season, and the newspapers back us in this!

SOCCER TEAM

Soccer Team

A. R. Payton.....	Coach
V. L. Sibilia	Faculty Advisor
G. Del Mauro	Captain
E. B. Esty	Manager

Although handicapped by the fact that many good players were lost by graduation, the soccer team, coached by Mr. Payton, turned in a record which excelled that which was expected of them. Four victories, two ties and four defeats, comprise the record of the 1928 season. While the soccer team did not win the greater part of its games, this record is better than that of the previous year.

The team, consisting of De Noia, Guarino, Makow, Mascola, Surdi, J. Bilotta, De Fabio, Captain Del Mauro, Kratzer, E. Bilotta, Casale and Caprio, played Dickinson on October 9th for the opening game of the season. Although the visitors were thoroughly outplayed, they managed to score enough goals to tie Barringer's team, the final score being 3—3.

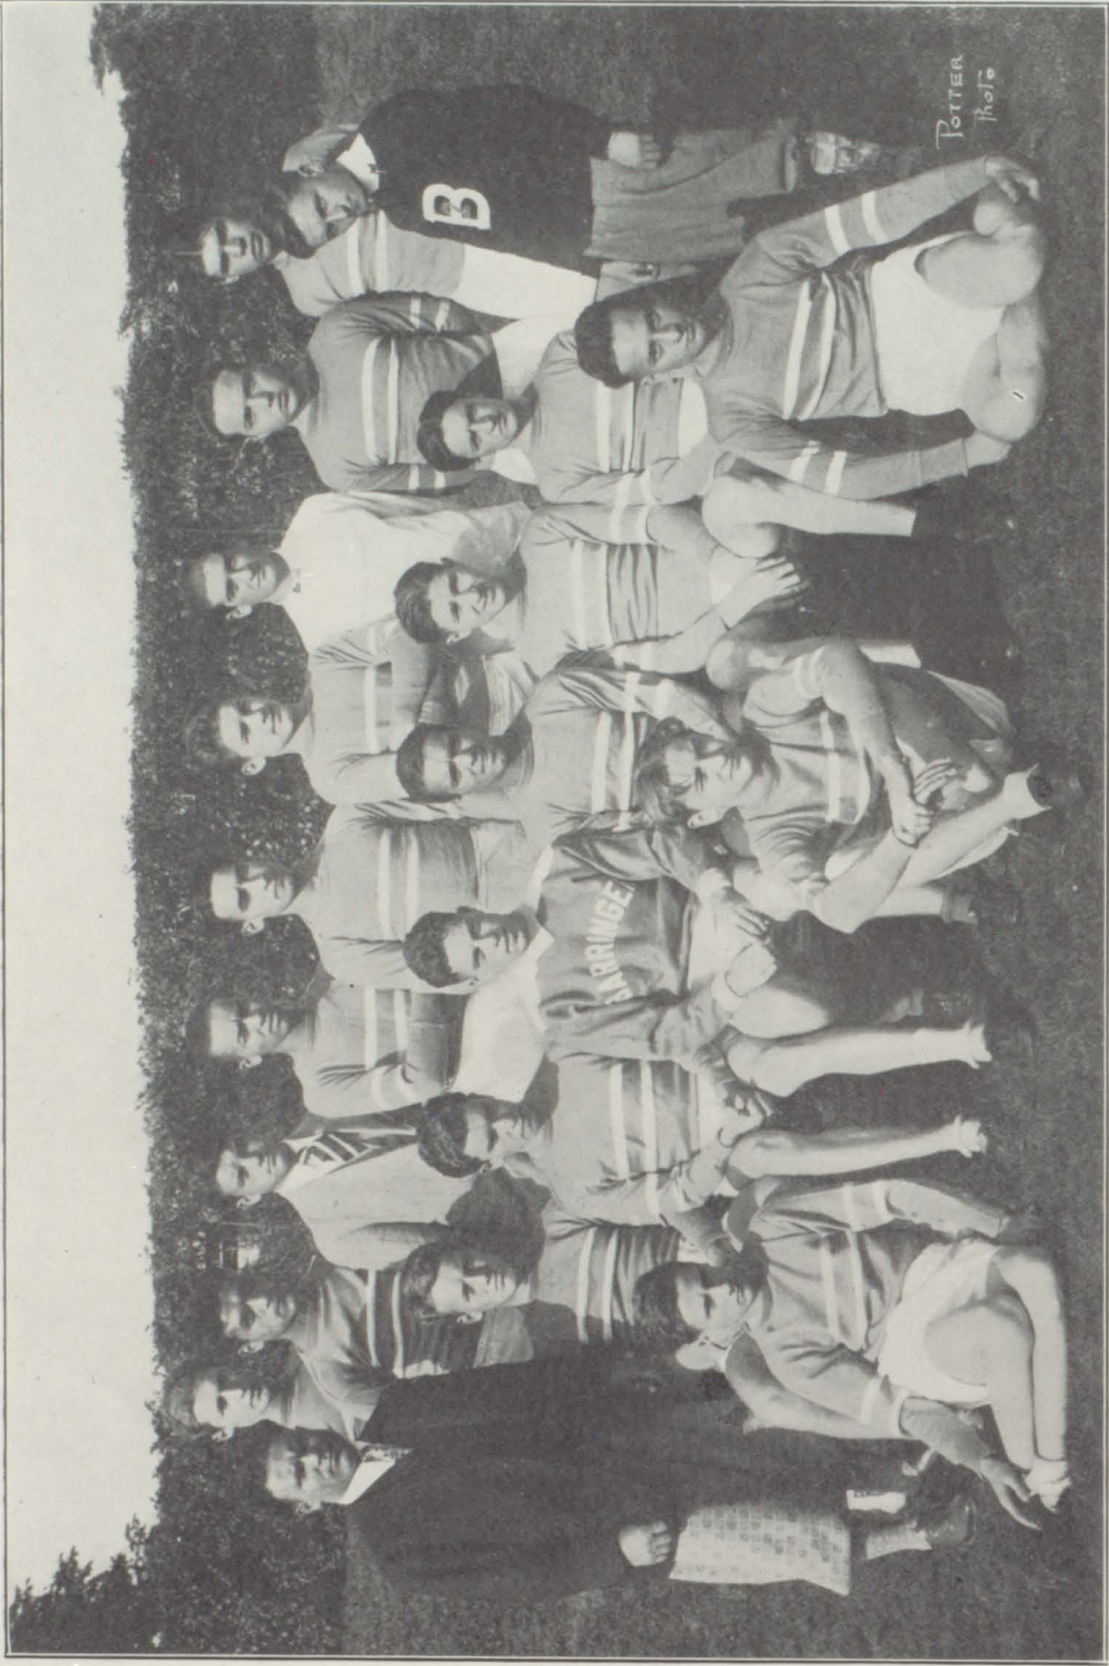

On October 12th the team went to Montclair to play its second scheduled game. Both teams fought hard, but the Barringer attack was unable to break through the opposition and when the final whistle blew, Montclair was at the big end of a 4—1 score.

The Barringer team lost its second game by losing to East Orange by a 2—1 score. Both teams showed spirit and fight, which made the game a very entertaining one for the spectators.

The next game Barringer lost to Verona, 2—0. The first half found both teams trying hard for a goal and neither team succeeding, the half ending 0—0. However, Barringer's defense weakened in the second half and Verona scored 2 goals. When the final whistle blew for the end of the game, the score was Verona 2 Barringer 0.

In the meantime, Coach Payton made many changes in the team's line-up and finally developed a winning combination. The team, as a result, defeated Montclair 2—1, tied Verona 2—2, defeated Central High of Paterson 3—2 and defeated East Orange 2—1. Barringer's victory over East Orange was the first ever obtained by a Barringer soccer team.

Much praise is to be given to Mr. Payton for his exceptional ability in developing a fine team.

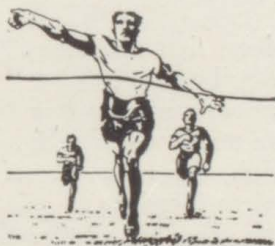

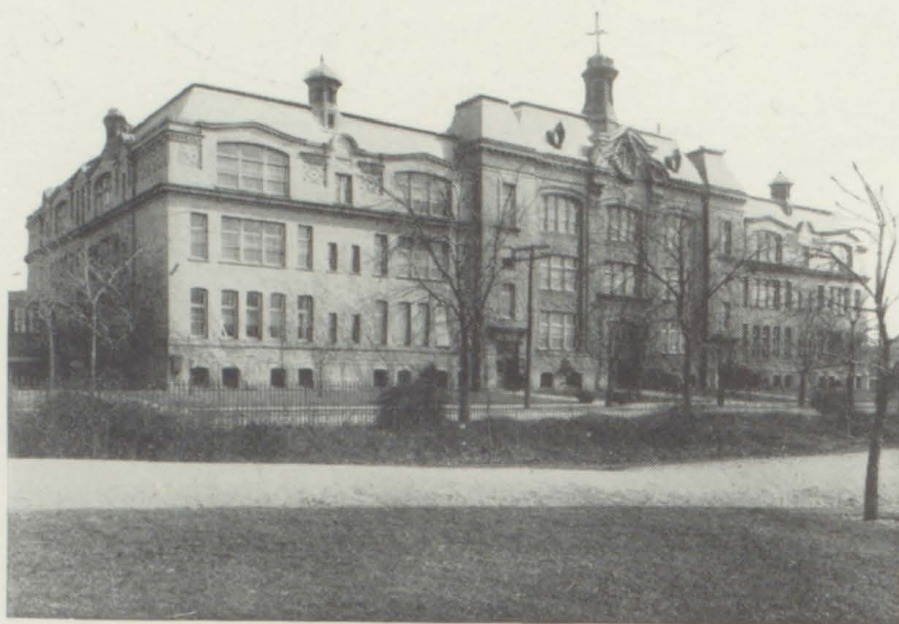

CROSS-COUNTRY SQUAD

Cross-Country

Our cross-country team has just completed another very successful season, capturing for the fourth consecutive year the city cross-country title. Under the able coaching of Victor Salerno, the team loomed up as one of the favorites to capture the State Meet. The team is composed of the following men: Al White, captain of the squad, Tony Insinnia, Al Danton, Harry Bechefskey, Al Sepe, George Hughes, Dick Massenzio, Paul Mulford, Dick Hansen, Mike Riviello, Bill Kiernan, Joe Grasso, Robert Eng, Charlie Schwal, and Joe Jantausch. Dick Spina managed the team and was ably assisted by Dave Winograd and Sid Robins.

The team started off the season in a great rush, defeating the West Side team by the perfect score of 15—45. In this race the first five, Barringer, (Captain Al White, Insinnia, Danton, Riviello, and Hughes) crossed the finish line holding hands, to capture first place. In their next race with the South Side harriers, the team showed some spectacular running in downing their opponents 19—36. The following week the strong Irvington team went down to defeat to the tune of 19—40. The team seemed to be headed straight for the State Title but in the Irvington meet Al White, their captain, tore a ligament in his leg which disabled him for the rest of the season. A very demoralized team it was that ran against St. Benedicts the following week. The strong Gray Bee team proved too much for our team to handle and we met our first defeat of the season, but by the close score of 25—30. The week following, the Big Blue team entered the State Meet, the favorites to win, but fell down badly, taking fourth place with a total of 99 points. The Wednesday following the State Meet, the team lined up for their last race of the season—the City Meet. The Boys entered the race with a determination to win,—and win they did. We captured 2nd—4th—5th—7th and 11th places to account for the low score of 29 points. And so once again Barringer High holds the City Cross-Country Championship.

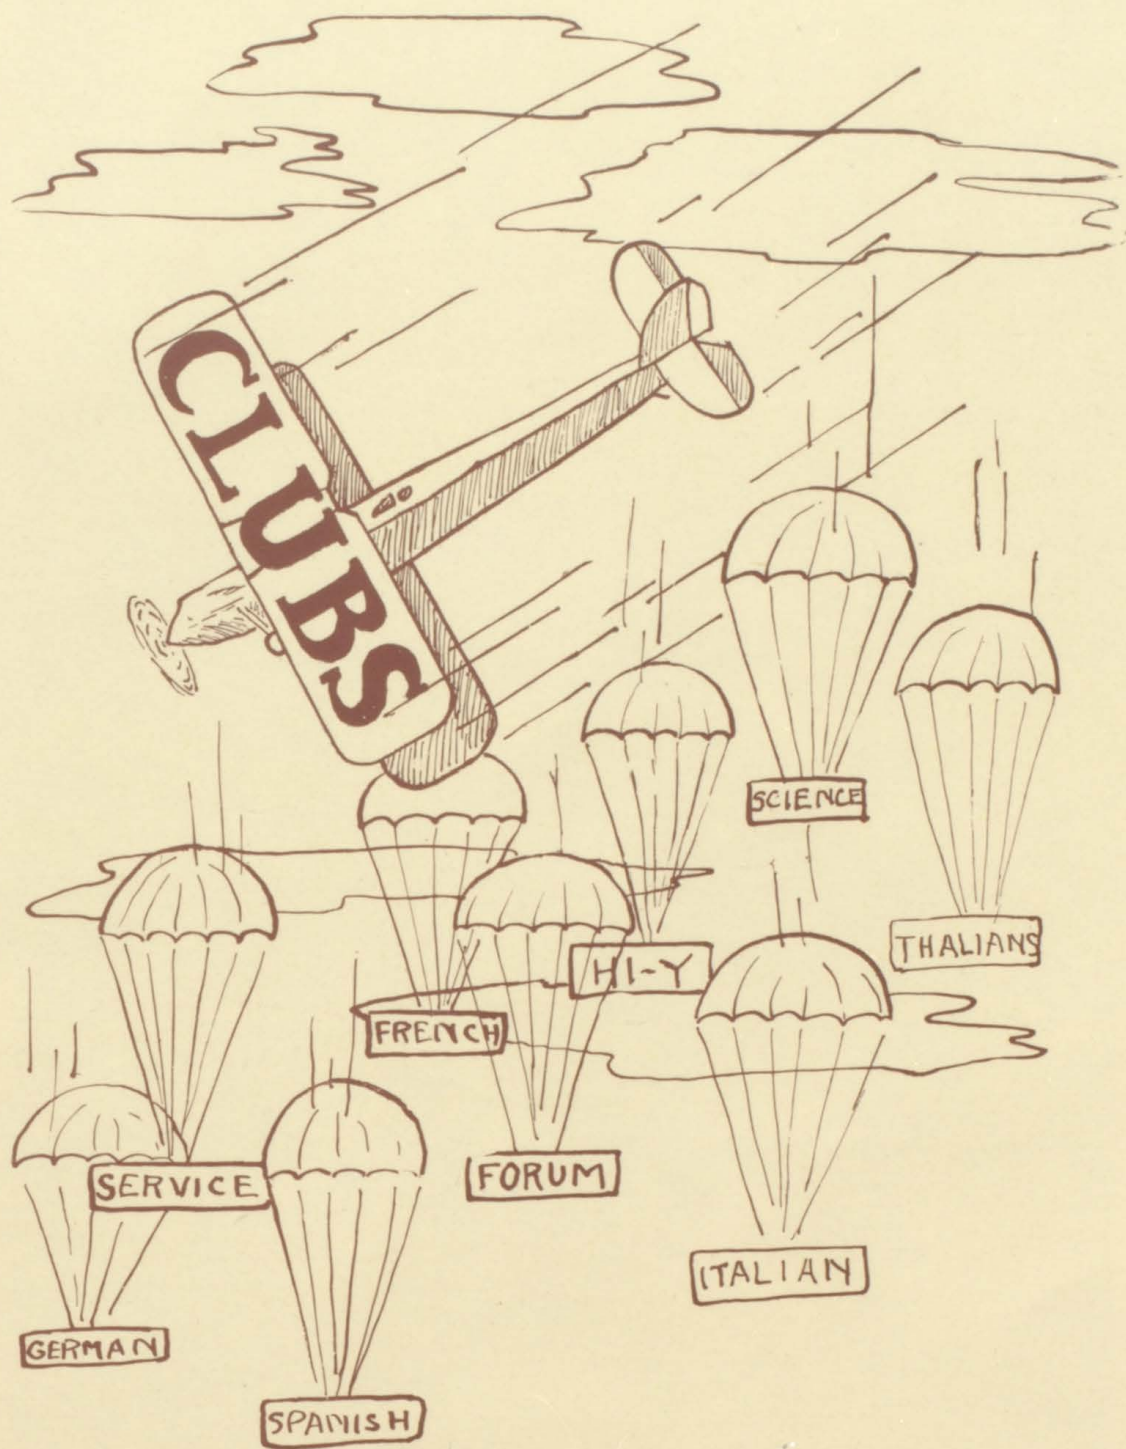

Alma Mater

Words by JUNIUS W. STEVENS

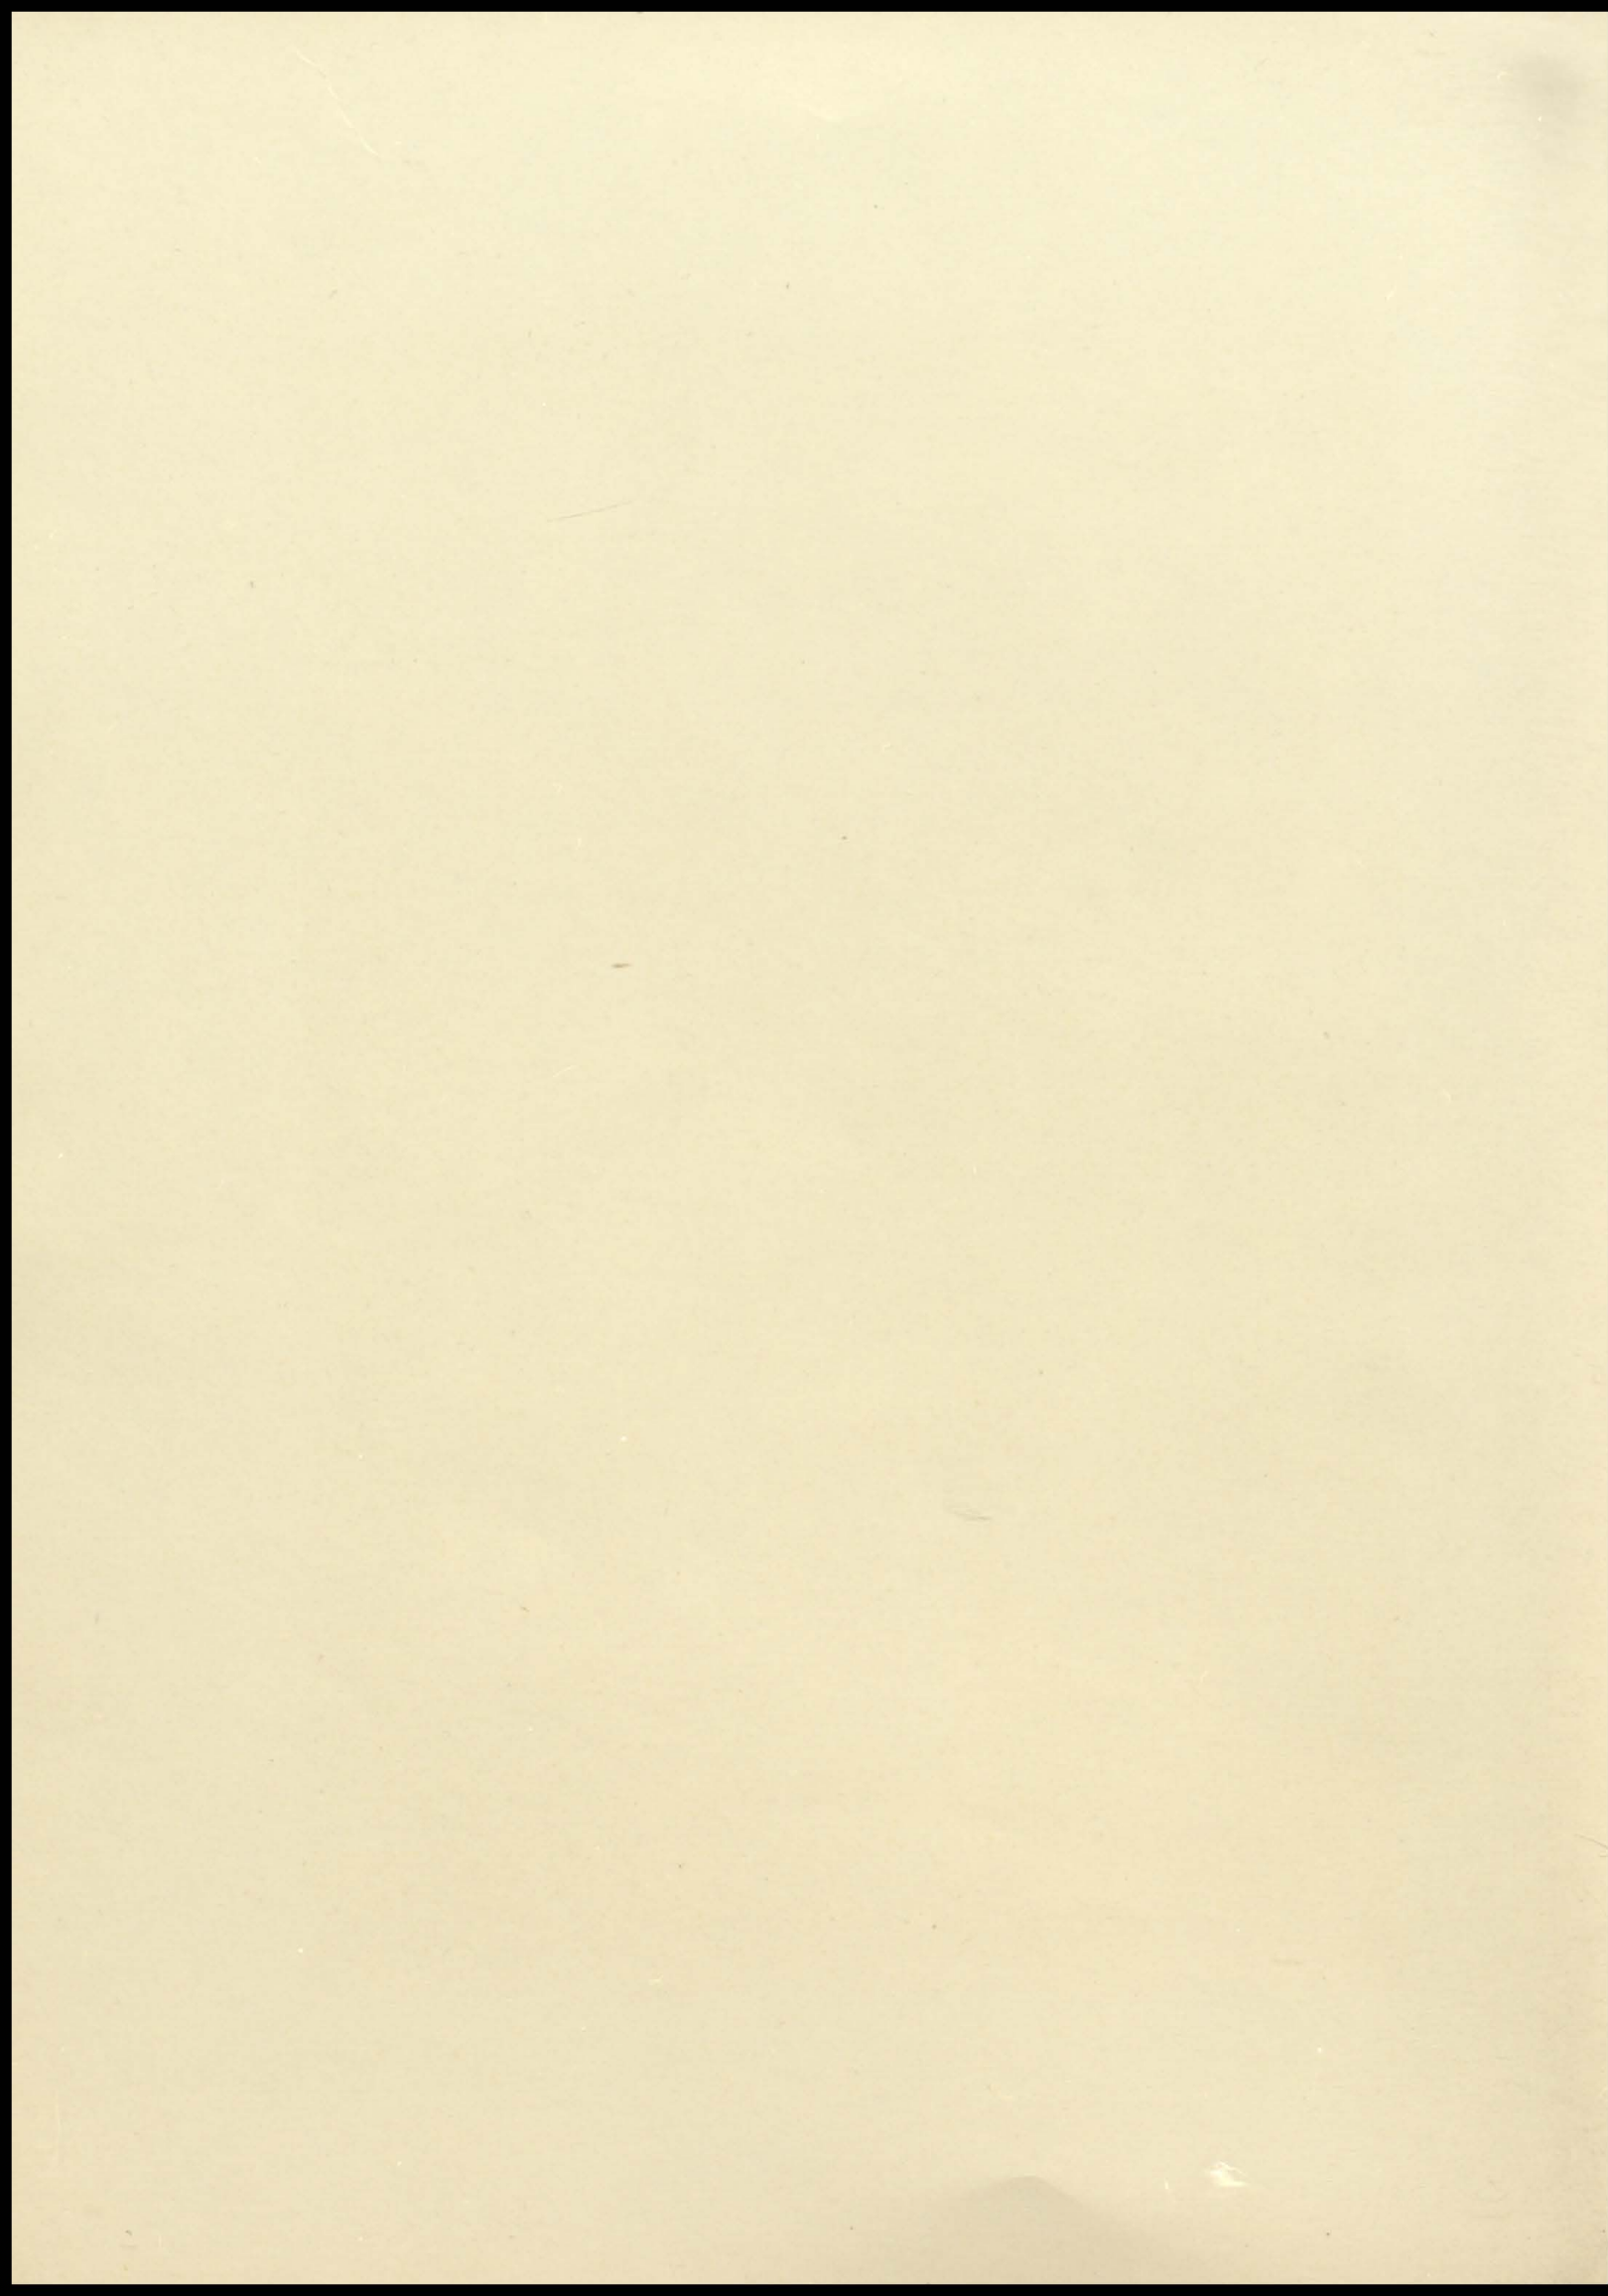

Tune: Lauriger Horatius

Over many a city old,
Famed in song and story,
Temple grey and castle hold
Catch the sunset glory.
So our Alma Mater proud
Looks o'er vale and meadow,
High between the sailing cloud
And its drifting shadow.

For her colors, first the blue
Of the April valley;
Then December's wintry hue
When the storm winds rally.
Newark High, thy fame we raise,
Many voices blending;
Through the years we pledge thee praise,
Loyal to life's ending.

Le Cercle Francais

President	Richard Gilpin
Vice-President	Margaret Brewster
Secretary	Ruth Andrews
Treasurer and Faculty Advisor	Mme. Carleu

The general aim of the Cercle Français, ever since it was organized over twenty years ago, has been to give the French students of Barringer a closer aspect of the life and culture of the French people than can possibly be shown in the ordinary class room routine.

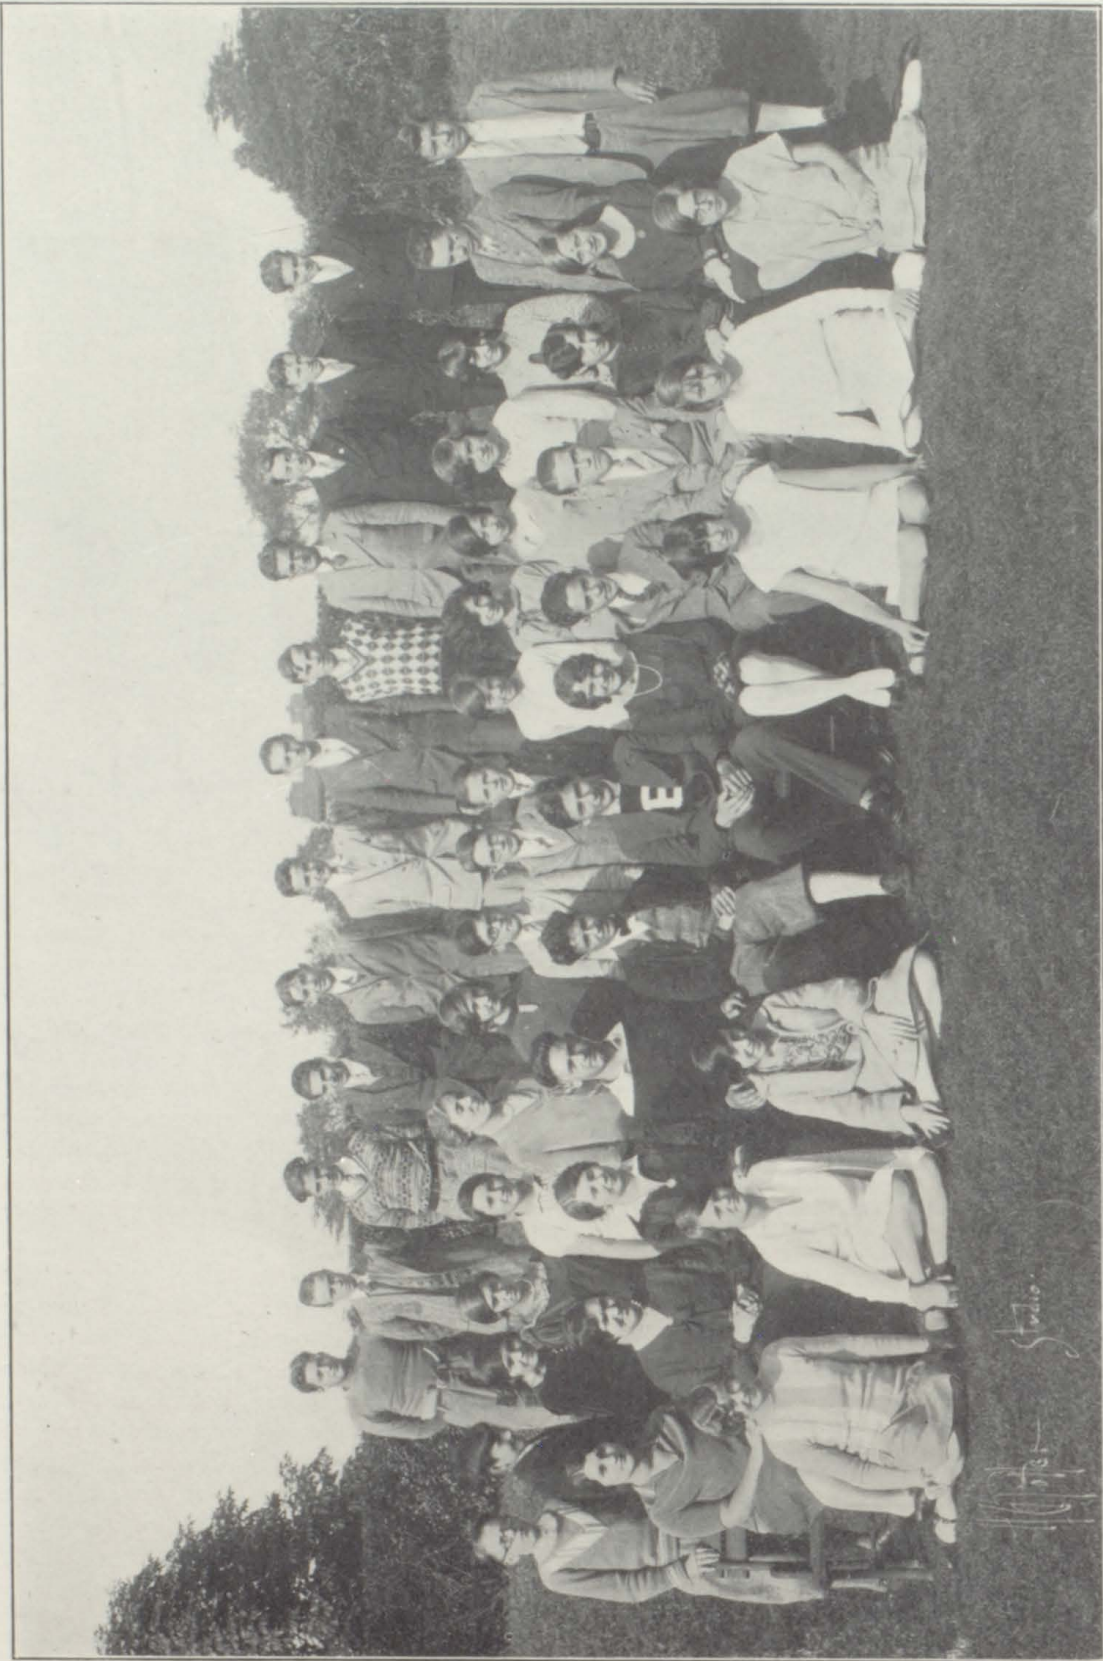

Several times the club has had the privilege of having, as speakers at the meetings, distinguished Frenchmen, but when speakers have not been available, student programs have been prepared in which the students have presented playlets and sometimes have recited French poetry. At these meetings a great deal of fun is had by singing some of the better known French songs.

It was during the great World War that the club was the most active that it has ever been. The girls did their part by sewing and knitting different articles of clothing which were to be sent to the boys "over there." The boys did not fall behind in this work, however; even though they did not sew or knit, they earned money which was used in supporting the orphaned children of the brave men who so willingly gave their lives for their country.

During this past semester, several interesting programs were given. The first of these was a Hallowe'en dance which was given in the gym on the last day of October. Billy Hinton, an old Barringer grad, furnished the music, and "a good time was had by all." The regulation Hallowe'en refreshments were served, being cider and doughnuts, and the gym was decorated in the proverbial orange and black. Also on the evening of November twenty-fourth, the members of the club went to New York to see "The Bourgeois Gentilhomme" and everyone felt that he had spent a very profitable and entertaining evening. Several other pleasant surprises in the form of playlets are being planned by Madame Carleu for the coming meetings.

This year the membership has also increased and the club is very proud of its hundred members.

It may well be understood that the Cercle Français has been "up and going" and promises much more in the near future under the supervision of Madame Carleu.

Treasurer	Harry Katz
Secretary	Leonard Rand
Chairman of Membership Committee	Jacob Schait
Chairman of Entertainment Committee	Daniel Hicks

The German Club is probably the "Baby" amid the numerous organizations of Barringer High School because German has only recently been put into the curriculum as an elective. We are hoping in time to grow up to the goodly stature of our French, Spanish and Italian brothers and sisters.

Though we are small, we boast a membership of more than seventy-five percent of the pupils in the department. Our meetings are loyally supported and full of pep.

As we look back, we remember a good time with German folksongs at our November meeting (no lesson to prepare for the next day, hurrah!) Christmas brought the real German Tannenbaum and German carols. Later meetings have given us illustrated talks on German folklore and revived our childhood interest in charming Cinderella, The Piper of Hamelin, bold Baron Münchhausen and many others. And then our spring outings! Who will ever forget them? It has been the custom of the German Club to have a picnic every spring. We always visit some interesting place where we eat, sing, play ukes, and in general enjoy ourselves immensely!

To all who may be deciding the question as to what to choose for a second language, we give a cordial invitation to come into the German department, and on through the door into the friendly circle of the German Club.

A very interesting program was arranged by the Circulo Italiano of Barringer High School for the evening of December 8, 1928. The entertainment, which met with a tremendous success, consisted of two parts, the first being a recital by several well-known artists. Those appearing were Miss Angelina Sena, Mme. Luettman-Bontempo, pianist, Mr. Vincenzo Pesce, baritone with Maestro Gemnaro Gurie at the piano. The second part was a play entitled "The Three Graces" by Dario Niccodemi, in which members of the club, Delia Sturchio, Josephine Calabro, Clair Fusco were the graces, Maria Palmer, the mother, Alice Sozio, the maid, Vito Guarino, the ill-humored father, and Thomas D'Amico, the lawyer and lover, took part. The faculty advisor, Mr. V. L. Sibilia, had worked untiringly for the success of this entertainment, the proceeds of which will be devoted to the foundation of an Italian Library in Barringer High School.

The idea of endowing our school with an Italian library, which will consist of masterpieces of eminent authors in the field of letters, science and of illustrative works in that of fine arts, was conceived by the club members last June after their visit to the "Italian Book Exhibit" at the Casa Italiana, Columbia University. The purchase will be made through the medium of the Institute of Italian Culture, under the auspices of that university.

The club has also accepted unanimously the motion to donate to the main library of our city the "de luxe" edition of D'Annunzio's "Opera Omnia", consisting of forty-eight volumes.

The Spanish Club

The officers for 1928-29 are:

President Elwood Mills
Vice-President Evelyn Wells
Secretary Andrew Laurie

This year, the Spanish Club was engaged in many activities. With an ever increasing membership, it is looking forward to bigger and better things. This term was one of the busiest of its career. Of course, the more members it has, the more interesting and the more useful it can be, and those who have neglected to join are missing a good deal, as any active member will tell you.

The members have taken trips to various interesting places and in October, they went on an excursion to the Spanish Museum in New York. The trip was exceedingly pleasant and instructive. It is of special interest to note that there, but an hour's ride from our very door, we have, for our inspection, as fine a collection of paintings by the most prominent Spanish artists, as can be found in Spain, to say nothing of numerous other things of interest which they viewed there and which were explained to them very competently by their instructors, Mrs. Bushakra and Mr. Zweibel, who accompanied them. Our members have had the pleasure, on two occasions, of meeting Spanish gentlemen who were typical of the cultured Spaniard. At our last meeting, all were thrilled by a very pleasant young man from Guatemala, now attending Montclair Academy, who gave the club an excellent little talk.

The members of the Spanish Club, who went on a trip to the Bureau Pro-España last year, had the extreme pleasure of meeting a distinguished Spanish artist and a gentleman who, very graciously and in true Spanish fashion, gave us his time to describe the pictures which were on exhibition there at that time. A venture in which the Spanish Club expects to engage in the near future, is the bringing of a Spanish film entitled "José," to Barringer. This film is based on a popular novel and was made in Spain.

There is also right in our own city a colony of Spanish people, whom some of us are hoping to visit soon. This will give us an opportunity to see other types of Spaniards different from those we have already met in books and otherwise.

The possibilities of the Spanish Club are infinite; and the enrollment we have, will make these possibilities realities. Watch the Spanish Club!

THE FORUM

The Forum

The officers for 1928-29 are:

President Hector Mattia, Jan. '29.
Secretary Katherine Bell, Jan. '29.
Treasurer Fred Kirchner, Jan. '29.

Other members of Executive Board:

Harry Katz, Jan. '29	Arthur Lipstein, Jan. '29
Frederick Sammis, Jan. '29	Arthur Silverberg, Jan. '29

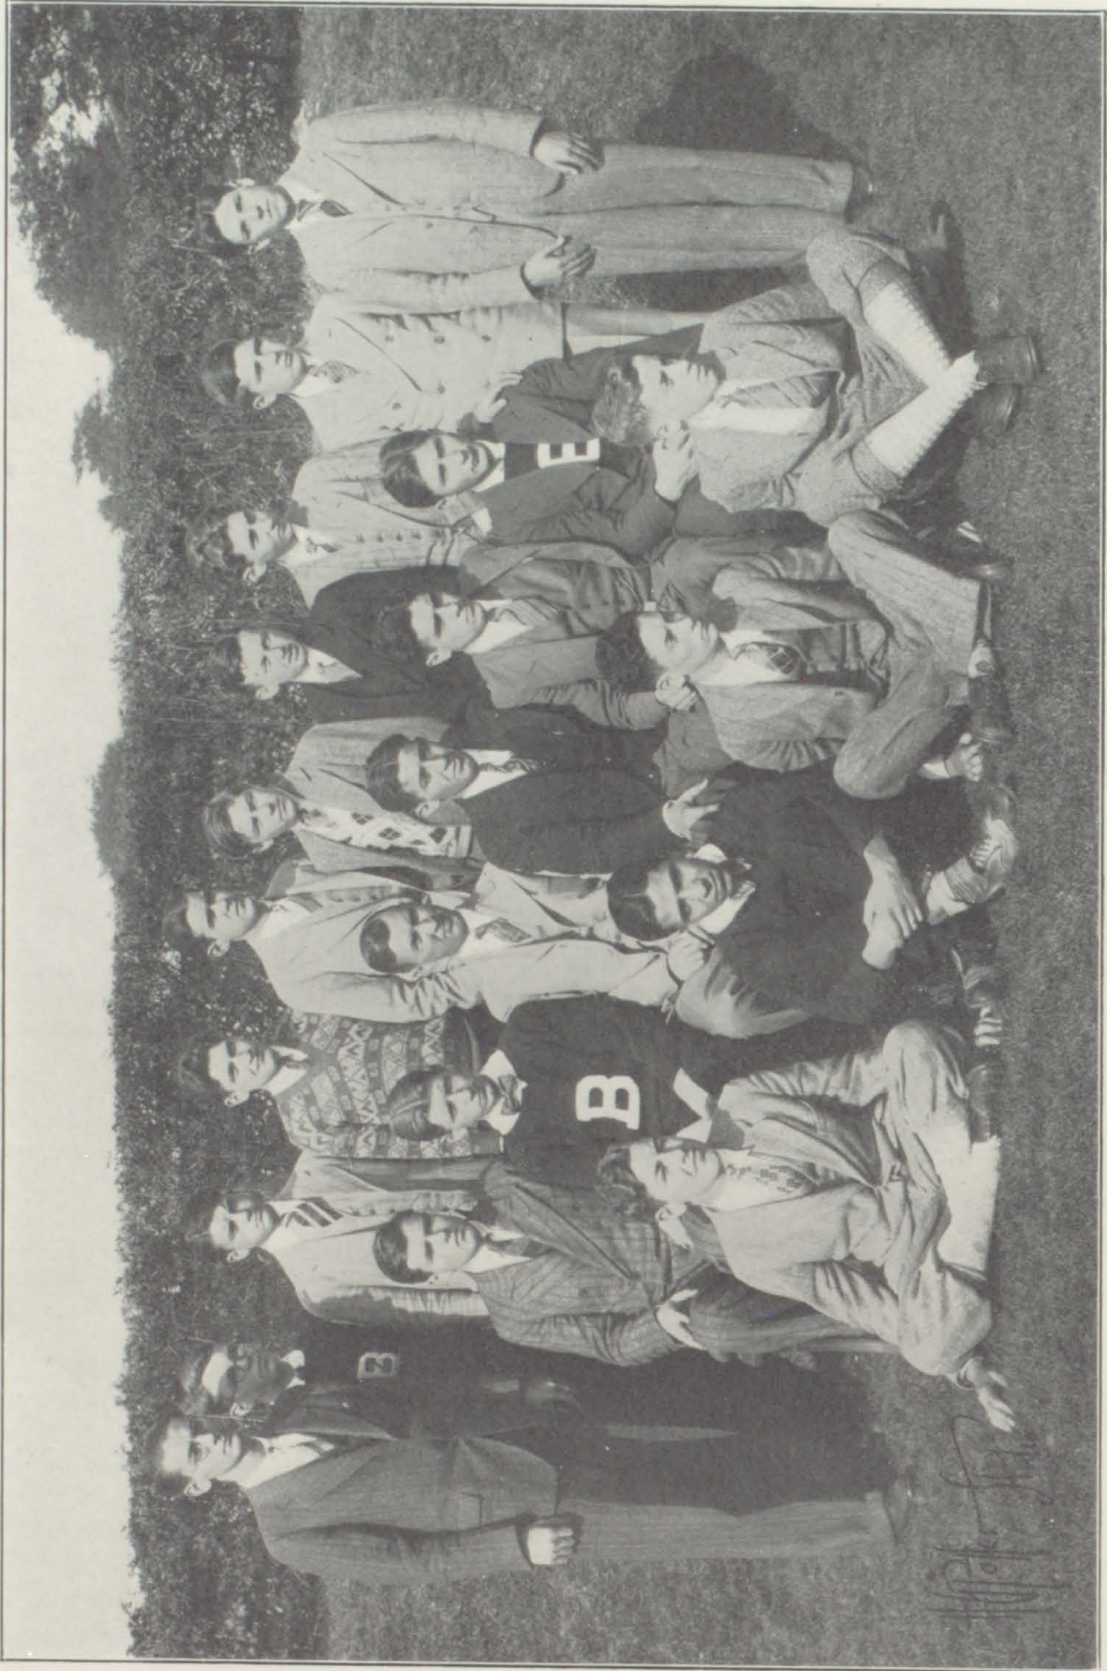

The Barringer Forum was organized in 1927, in response to a petition from some upper class students for an opportunity for practice in informal debate. According to the constitution of the club, its membership is open to post-graduates, Seniors, Juniors, and 2A's who elect history.

General management of the club is entrusted to an Executive Board of seven students, including the president, secretary, and treasurer, assisted by the Social Science Department.

The Forum aims to have five meetings each semester, one of which is purely for business. The other four meetings are devoted to a discussion of questions of current interest. The topics for the first three meetings this semester have been:—

- (1) A comparison of the Republican and Democratic Platforms;
- (2) Should our H. S. Curriculum be revised? If so, how?
- (3) Would a City Manager Plan be better for Newark than the present Commission Plan? The chairman of the meeting presents the question with whatever background or explanation may be necessary; the first part of the meeting is devoted to prepared speeches or arguments on both sides of the question; the remainder of the meeting is given over to extemporaneous discussion from the floor.

The Forum thus affords a fine opportunity for training in reasonable and fair discussion, one of the fundamental ideas upon which our American Democracy is founded.

Hi-Y

OFFICERS

President	Hugh Scott
Vice-President	Fred Sammis
Secretary & Treasurer	Hector A. Mattia
Advisor	Mr. Ammarell

The Barringer Hi-Y Club is composed of boys, most of whom are in the third or fourth years. The purpose of this organization is to develop Christian ideals and to try to put these precepts into practice in and out of school.

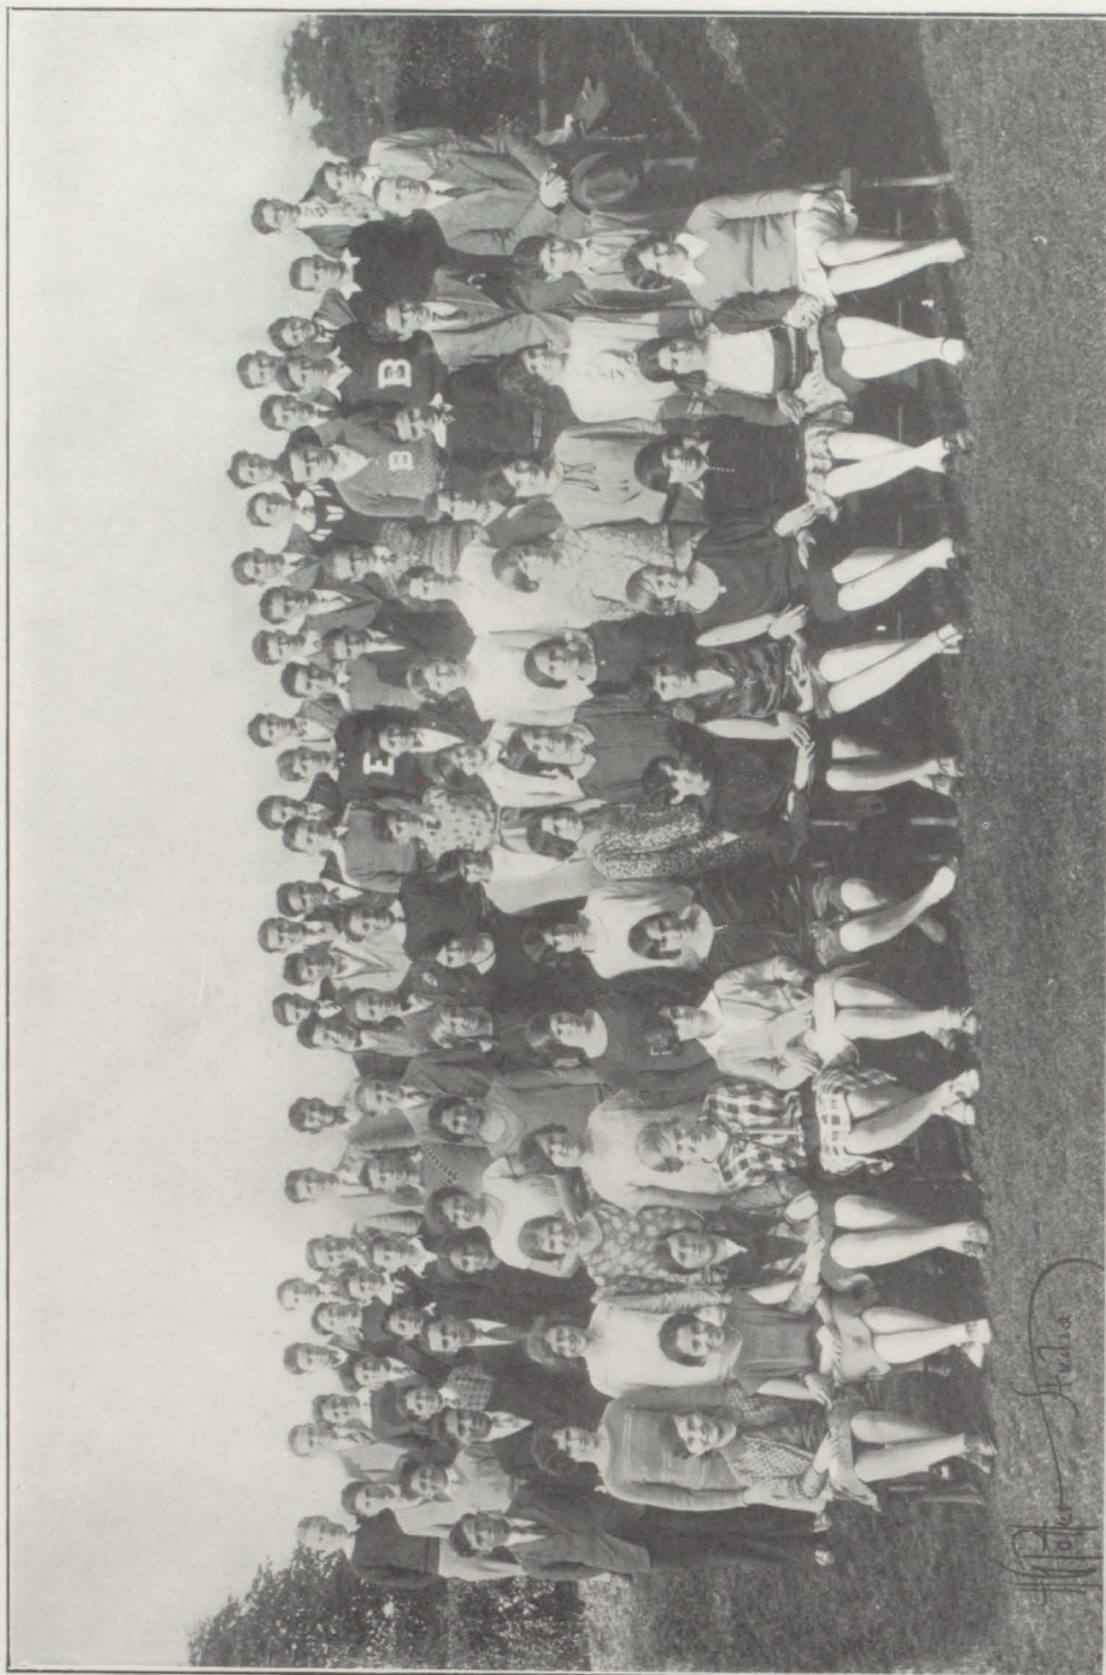

The club meets every Tuesday at 6 o'clock in the Campbell Room of the Y.M.C.A. Because the club exists for the boys, it has been deemed advisable to discuss such topics as are of interest to the members. The advisor of the club usually gives a brief survey of the topic, after which the members state their personal views. In this way a boy learns to express himself among his fellows and also realizes that other boys' problems are not so different from his own! *

In order to link up the Hi-Y with Barringer directly, the Club decided to assume the task of directing the students when they pass to the lunch room. This monitor work is popular with the boys.

Our Club has been eminently successful because of the type of boy who has affiliated with the organization. Boys who are leaders in school will draw other boys into the Club, and in that way one term after another sees fine types of young manhood admitted to the Hi-Y. It is our idea that the strength of this organization lies not so much in numbers as in the types of boys and the interest that the members show in the discussions. The member who is irregular in attendance adds little to the Club.

The Football Banquet is the outstanding social event of the year. This is sponsored by all of the Hi-Y Clubs in the immediate vicinity of Newark. During the last few years the Clubs have also sponsored a dance at the Y.M.C.A., with the Girl Reserves as their guests.

We regret to lose the boys who are graduating with the class of January, 1929, but we know that Hi-Y has made them finer boys in school and will make them worthy men in their various walks of life.

President	Theodore Bloom
Vice-President	Ruth Andrews
Secretary	John Haight
Chairman of Program Committee	Arthur Greason
Chairman of the Membership Committee	William Bullock

One meeting is held each month, and at these, the members have an opportunity to hear lectures and to see slides and moving pictures dealing with the latest developments in the scientific field. These are often supplemented by papers prepared and read by various members of the club. Before the close of each meeting, questions may be presented and a discussion held on the topics involved.

On the eleventh of October, the club had the pleasure of listening to Mr. A. M. Ottinger of the New Jersey Bell Telephone Co., who gave an illustrated talk on the sending of pictures by wire. Room 99 was crowded to the doors and there was keen interest shown by all present.

November also proved an active month for the club. First there was Mrs. Gilbert, head of the Science Department of the Newark Museum, who came on the fifteenth and gave an interesting talk on the work being done at the museum and showed many slides and specimens. Mrs. Gilbert invited the club to take a trip through the museum on the morning of November 24. This trip was well worth while and several expressed surprise at the large amount of material on exhibition and that so few knew of the work being done at this institution.

Another meeting, held on the afternoon of November 21, provided the opportunity of hearing Mr. Arthur D. Carpenter, who lectured on "Other Worlds Than Ours." The attendance was large and Mr. Carpenter was given much applause and a vote of thanks at the end of his talk.

The present membership of the Science Club is three hundred and sixty-one.

Service Club

OFFICERS

President	Katherine Bell
Vice-President	Esther Schechner
Recording Secretary	Doris Holmes
Corresponding Secretary	Eleanor Ruffkess
Treasurer	Helen Siesholtz

The Service Club is an offspring of the Girls' League and was organized in 1919, under the direction of Mrs. Poland, our dean of girls. During its existence it has been manned and advised by Barringer's best, and because of it, it has been able to render service to the school and community such as brings credit and honor to our Alma Mater. It has always had its headquarters in the room occupied by Mrs. Poland as her office but, due to the size of the day and evening schools, we have had to surrender our quarters for a more important use, and Mrs. Poland has moved her office to City Hall.

Without headquarters and our advisor, we have attempted this year a reorganization on very similar lines, and with the help of Miss Bishop we are branching into a bigger and better club, capable of rendering greater service to our school and community.

The duties of the Service Club are varied and numerous, covering a broad field of activities. We raise the money for the Girls' League through sales of football regalia of all kinds, candy, peanuts, etc., and we have, to date, realized a profit sufficient to finance every undertaking of the two organizations both in the school and community. We maintain a guard patrol for the cafeteria. We supply ushers for all public gatherings in the Auditorium and in fact, we make ourselves generally useful to the school in whatever service we are called upon to render. We have dressed dolls, supplied toys, candy, fruit, and assisted whole-heartedly in the entertainment of poor children at Xmas time. We have filled boxes for the Junior Red Cross on several occasions. But our activities have not only been among the children. We have had parties and entertained the inmates of the Old Ladies' Home and other institutions throughout the city.

With the opening of this term, we increased our membership to sixty, with the hope that the larger membership would bring larger interest in the organization, and consequently broaden our scope of activities and of the service that we so earnestly desire to render.

THE THALIANS

JAN.  '29

The Thaliens

After some years of inactivity, the Barringer Thaliens resumed its place in the school last winter. From the first, interest was shown by the students, and after the membership drive, the newly elected officers were delighted to find two hundred and twenty members enrolled. Work was begun at once on the production of the first play. In appreciation of the support of the school, a first performance was planned to be given to the whole school in an auditorium period. Later, at an evening performance on Friday, June 1, three plays were given. The first, was Morning Song, by Lawrence Langner. Pierrot, was played by Mildred Mehrrens, Columbine by Margaret Brewster, and Harlequin by Pauline Saltenoff. The second play was A. A. Milne's The Man in the Bowler Hat. The cast included Robert Bates, Priscilla Dunbar, Ralph Morton, Mary D'Amico, William Stansbury, Robert Tiedeman, and Sterling Norcross. The third play was a whimsical and dainty little piece with a plot drawn from a Chinese willow plate. The following were cast: Barbara Crosse, Florence Schiffenhaus, Joseph Sugarman, Elsie Lipstein, Samuel Kesselman, Harold Kain, Pierson King, Josephine Calabro, Evelyn Wells, Dorothea Hicks, Mildred Mehrrens, Doris Chadwick, Sylvia Bernstein, Mary Rumrill, Carolyn Edwards, and Harriet Cooper.

One of the most interesting developments is the formation of a stage crew. They have designed and painted two sets of scenery. In the painting, students of the Arts Course took up the leadership. Lighting effects were worked out.

During the fall term, all the various departments have been busily at work. Few meetings of the general body are held, but many people are quietly busy, rehearsing parts, painting, designing, studying stage make-up under various lights, working out lighting effects. So when a play is at last presented, it represents the combined work of many people, a piece of real team work by students, who, working separately, at last see their various contributions woven into an artistic whole.

A large part of the success of the Dramatic Club must always be dependent on the general membership—the body of loyal supporters, whose enthusiasm makes possible all that is finally accomplished.

Verse

GRAF ZEPPELIN

Each bolt and nut was tight, each strut in place.
The crew was set for the heroic race.
Four hundred chosen men a ground-crew made,
Who saw the ship in slumber safely laid.
At last the start, in true courageous way
The ship was loosed from its restraining stay.
The flight begun, the fatal die was cast.
The wireless flashed the news until the last.
Regal, majestic, as a ship in flight,
Onward, it swiftly sailed with kingly might.
A tear, a break, a momentary fright—
"Courage! Hold on! The end is now in sight!"
"The land!" "Ahead!" "'Tis on our starboard side!"
"Cheer on, brave men! His wishes we abide."
"A town! a state! the 'drome! and now a hand!"
"Jersey! Lakehurst! At last the promised land!" S. R.

THE MAIL-PLANE

Two spectral lamps appear like lanterns bright;
A whirring, buzzing zoom sounds through the night.
The haunting lights wax larger now and clearer;
The whirring zoom grows greater now and nearer.
In darkness it speeds on across the sky.
Oh hark! it is the Mail-Plane passing by.
Crimson and green, the airy lamps are swinging.
The plane speeds on, its motor ever singing.
As out of darkness came its airy flight,
Again it vanishes into the night. L. Z.

A FRIEND

In all the world, there's nothing like a friend,
On whom you know you always can depend.
She loves and trusts you, when the others jeer,
Expresses sympathy and dries your tear.
No matter if you lose or if you win,
She cheers for you, your pal through thick or thin.
She knows you as you are, and still she cares;
She guards your secrets, watches your affairs.
So when in prayer at night your knees you bend,
Ask God to make you worthy of a friend.
Now while you may be thinking of some other,
To me this loving friend is just—my Mother. E. W.

Fran—(Driving a car for the first time). Goodness, here comes a train! What shall I do?

Bain—(Lighting a Murad). Blow your horn and give it an even break.

Bob Schembs—(Rushing up to her). "This is my dance, you know," (breathlessly).

Evelyn Wells—(Giving him a haughty stare). "Oh, really? I thought it was the Junior Prom."

Mr. Taylor—You missed my class yesterday, Spina.

Spina—Not in the least, sir, not in the least.

Bloom—What is college-bred?

Katz—College-bred, my son, is made from the flour of youth and the dough of old age. They call it a four year loaf.

Frances—Have you heard the Pawnbrokers' song?

Gert—Spring it while I'm still in the mood.

Frances—"Though you belong to somebody else, tonight you belong to me."

Norm.—I hear your girl friend has water on the knee.

Bill Ward—Yea!

Norm.—That's why she wears pumps.

Marge—Why do they call her Appendicitis?

Gyp—Oh, some doctor is always taking her out.

YES, INDEED!

Bain—What's 5Q plus 5Q?

Schembs—10Q.

Bain—You're welcome.

Betty Titus—I'm thinking of going to Europe; how much will it cost me?

Dot Eisele—Nothing!

Betty Titus—Nothing?

Dot Eisele—Yes, thinking about it won't cost you a thing.

Ada—I want a shorter skirt than the one you showed me.

Clerk—That is the shortest we have. Have you tried the collar department?

Miss Beebe—Why don't you answer me?

D'Amico—I did shake my head.

Miss Beebe—Well, do you expect me to hear it rattle way up here?

Katz—I know a girl that plays the piano by ear.

Grant—S' nothing. I know an old man who fiddled with his whiskers.

I wonder who landed the blow
That fractured ole Hector's poor nose!
'Twas a terrible break,
For someone to make,
But 'twill all come out right, I suppose.

All boys and young folks know our Cherry,
Who makes gloomy fate look so merry;
He wore a big rose
And danced on his toes
Without other thoughts than, "Be Merry."

"Sir," wrote an indignant mother to Mr. Taylor, "you musn't hit my Bobbie Schembs. He isn't used to it. We never hit him at home except in self-defense."

MR. TAYLOR

The boss of the 41-ders,
At sinners so often thunders.
One wonders if he never blunders,
Like all the rest of us dunderers.

MISS HEWITT

We all know the lady named Hewitt,
Whose aim is to make us all "do it."
And if we don't do it,
We're dead sure to rue it,
So always we do it for Hewitt.

MISS CAPEN

She seldom wears a hat,
I wonder if it's that,
That makes her little head so very clever!
If that's what does the trick,
Then by the good Saint Nick,
I'll never wear a hat again, no, never!

MR. DUMM

Fee, fi, fo, fum,
It isn't the blood of an Englishman!
It's only the stew
Of the latest brew,
In the lab of our dear Mr. Dumm.

"Yes, I can add the noughts now, but the figures still bother me."

BE SPECIFIC

Helen—Have you got a pin?

Barbara—Common, rolling, tin, safety, bar, stick, cotter, hair, hat, scarf, tie or fraternity?

Fred—How did it come about that Adam and Eve called their son Cain?

Julius—They knew what they were raising.

Jeff—Haven't I met you some place before?

Eunice—Perhaps; sometimes I get a little careless where I go.

Mancusi—Do you object to petting?

Selma—That's one thing I've never done yet.

Mancusi—Petted?

Selma—No, objected.

Scotty—May I hold your hand?

Lil—It isn't heavy; I can manage, thank you just the same.

Hey Pony! the teacher says "whoa."
But only the faster you go—
There is nothing he fears
See the tilt of his ears—
Vergil gallops and trots Cicero.

GRANDMA

Among her memories
There she sat—
The fireplace red with glowing heat,
The high backed chairs, soft cushioned,
Rugs of dim hues and shades,
Pictures of the olden days,
Snowy white curtains
Made by her own hands
Her grandchildren about her—
There sat grandma—
Small and neat.

YOUTH'S RELIGION

I am free.
I am not like those countless others
Who carry on their bending backs,
Bags of leaden thoughts.
I am free and can ride on the wind,
I am not like those countless others
Who prepare themselves for a theoretical state.
I am free and wish to ride
Into the sunset on tarnished wings,
The land, if land it be,
That lies beyond man's pen,
Is not yet mine.

The world's fastest duplex cable was laid recently by the Western Union Telegraph Co., between Bay Roberts and Horta. Picture shows the contours of the ocean floor between these two points.

From:

The Western Union Telegraph Co.,
195 Broadway, New York City

LAYING OCEAN CABLES

When the cable ship Dominia completed for the Western Union the laying of the duplex cable in the record time of seven days, between Bay Roberts, N. F., and Horta, Azores, another link in the chain of international communications was forged. This will increase cable facilities between this country and Germany, Italy, Spain, Africa and Portugal. Four messages may be sent over it in each direction simultaneously, due to the use of a new alloy called "mumetal," and the employment of an electrical principle known as "tapered loading."

Few persons are aware of the intricacies of cable laying. It is popularly supposed that a ship merely takes the required length of cable and drops it into the ocean, and that after this is done the two ends are connected to instruments and communication established. As a matter of fact the laying of a new cable begins months before the cable is even placed aboard the cable-laying ship.

Engineers plan the route the cable is to take with mathematical exactness. After this has been decided upon a modern cable ship conducts a survey. The bottom of the ocean consists of hills and valleys, and the cable ship must take soundings to determine the depths to which the cable will go. It would not do to hang the cable between two hills where its own weight would in time wear it out. A device known as an echo depth finder takes continuous soundings. The principle of this device is simple. A sound is sent from the bottom of the ship to the bottom of the ocean. It returns to the bridge of the ship where the time taken for its travel is translated into fathoms of depth. The old fashioned method called for the employment of a "leadsmen" who "heaved a lead" into the water and measured the number of fathoms paid out when the lead rested on the ocean's bottom.

After the cable route is surveyed the "shore end" of the cable is laid, usually by a small ship able to navigate in shallow water. This end is usually larger and more heavily armored than the deep sea end, as rocks, sea animals, and other dangers to the cable are more common near the shore and the cable must be better protected here than in deep water. After the shore end is laid, the deep-sea end is spliced to it and the actual paying-out process begins.

Paying out an ocean cable is a delicate task. To prevent the cable from breaking, too much slack cannot be permitted. For the same reason, too little slack must not be allowed. It is rather ticklish business, and were it not for an instrument known as the dynamometer, which measures the pull and strain on the cable, it would be rendered even more difficult. This machine is watched constantly by those in charge of the paying-out operations. If the pull on the cable is too strong, the brakes on the paying-out gear are eased off and a little slack is given. On the other hand, if there is too much slack, the brakes are applied and some of it is taken up.

Day and night the cable ship goes on its way. In case of bad weather endangering the cable, it is cut and buoyed in the ocean. The ship marks well the location of the buoy, splices the buoyed end of the cable to the end on board the ship and proceeds once more on her way.

NEW JERSEY LAW SCHOOL

Pre-Legal Department

Offers an opportunity to the members of the mid-year graduating class, to begin their first year of college work February 4, 1929. Students enrolling in this course may complete their freshman year in September, and thus attain full sophomore standing by October, 1929.

Our college course satisfies the requirements for admission to law school and at the same time makes available two years of collegiate training for those who may be interested in pursuing liberal arts studies.

Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute

TROY, NEW YORK

A School of
ENGINEERING AND SCIENCE

THE Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute was established at Troy, New York, in 1824, and is the oldest school of engineering and science in the United States. Students have come to it from all of the states and territories of the Union and from thirty-nine foreign countries. At the present time, there are over 1400 students enrolled at the school.

Four year courses leading to degrees are offered, in Civil, Mechanical, Electrical, and Chemical Engineering, and in Business Administration, Physics, Chemistry, and Biology. Graduates of the engineering courses are prepared to take up work in any branch of engineering. Graduates of the course in Business Administration are prepared for careers in business or for the study of law. Graduates of the courses in Physics and Chemistry are fitted for research and teaching in these fields, as well as for practice in many branches of applied science. The course in Biology prepares for research and teaching, for work in sanitary engineering and public health, and for the study of medicine and dentistry.

Graduates of any of the above courses may continue their work in the Graduate School of the Institute. The Master's Degree is conferred upon the satisfactory completion of one year's work and the Doctor's Degree for three years' work.

The method of instruction is unique and very thorough, and in all departments the laboratory equipment is unusually complete.

Interesting illustrated pamphlets giving information regarding the courses of study and the methods of instruction and containing views of the campus, buildings, and laboratories, the student activities, and the work of graduates, may be had by applying to the Registrar.

WINTER NIGHT

SAMUEL CARL GRANT

The North Wind blows
Upon the well-thatched roofs
Its cold and stinging breath
But does not penetrate
Each cosy, quiet room thereof
Where warmth and comfort breed
Forgetfulness of aught without,
Bright amber tea and flame,
Blue china and blue curtains,
All blend into one beauty
And bliss of sheltered ease,
How warm the room on such a night;
How cold the blast without.
